College to honor two Ontarians

Two Ontario residents will be featured in the Chaffey College Founders' Day Convocation at 11 a.m. Friday in the Little Theater.

Miss Alberta Schaefer, secretary-treasurer of the Chaffey Historical Society, will be honored as Citizen of the Year. She served 44 years as a key staff member of the Ontario Public Library.

Speaker at the Founders' Day program will be George W. Vinnedge, attorney and member of the college board of trustees from 1963 to 1971. The title of his address is "Chaffey's Colors — Red, White and Gray."

Miss Schaefer graduated from Chaffey College in 1927 and Vinnedge in 1947.

While Miss Schaefer retired as city librarian on Dec. 1, 1972, she has continued volunteer work as the prime gatherer and organizer of the Chaffey archives. These are centered at the Rex W. Wignall Museum.

While Miss Schaefer worked at the Ontario library, she established a service for bed-ridden residents using a projector to enlarge pages and project them on the ceiling of a room. She also was responsible for several other innovations at the library.

ALBERTA SCHAEFER GEORGE W. VINNEDGE

Vinnedge is active in several community and professional groups, including the West End United Fund, Western San Bernardino County Bar Association and the Ontario Kiwanis Club.

Fremont reading project 4th best

The Demonstration Reading Project at Fremont Junior High School in Pomona is the fourth most effective such project in the state, according to Wilson Riles, state superintendent of public instruction.

The three most efficient reading labs are being operated in Compton, Oakland and Pittsburg, Riles said.

The California State Department of Education, operating 30 laboratory-type reading and math centers throughout the state, recommend that 17 most effective programs be continued and expanded, 15 effective ones be continued and that one considered least effective be closed. The centers operate on state funds.

Most effective math centers are in Colton, San Jose, Riverside, Los Angeles and Jurupa school districts.

In detailing the results of this evaluation, the department found that, on an average, reading students raised their testing scores 128 per cent more than expected during 1974-75 — that is, they gained more than twice as much as expected.

Math students did nearly as well, gaining 120 per cent more than expected.

The strongest individual percentage gains were made in the Compton reading center (450 per cent above predictions) and the San Jose math center (295 per cent above predictions).

The department reported that the average reading student gained 1.9 months of achievement growth for each month of school. The highest monthly gains in reading were in Compton, 3.9 months growth for each month in class.

The state's system of compensatory education demonstration centers is helping low-achieving students in seventh, eighth and ninth grades. During 1974-75, the program cost an average of $355 per reading student and $264 per math student.

This program was authorized by the legislature in 1969. The average reading project had a cost effectiveness of 6.4 per cent, the department said, meaning that each one per cent of additional funding given to the school by the state brought about a 6.4 per cent increase in student achievement.

RICHARD T. NIMMONS

College official retiring

Richard T. Nimmons, 62, vice president for administration and development at Pomona College, will retire Aug. 1.

Nimmons returned to his alma mater in 1962 after a 12-year career as a partner in a New York City public relations counseling firm.

He expects to move to the Carmel Valley after his retirement and pursue private interests.

During his 13 years at Pomona College, Nimmons has been responsible for directing a staff which accounted for nearly $59 million in a variety of fund-raising efforts, including the Pomona College Advancement Program conducted during the mid-1960s and the campaign to raise nearly $1-million for the Bridges Hall of Music restoration project.

Nimmons graduated from Pomona College in 1935 and organized the college News Bureau which he left in 1938 to take a job in Chicago with a major fund-raising organization.

He and his wife, Virginia, a 1937 graduate of Pomona College, are parents of four children.

Walnut chamber to install Lindow as next leader

Lloyd Lindow will be installed as president of the Walnut Valley Area Chamber of Commerce March 26 at the California Country Club, 1509 S. Workman Mill Road, Whittier.

Reservations may be made in person or by phone at the Chamber of Commerce office, 140 Pierre Road, Walnut, 595-2758, or the Bank of America, 2845 Diamond Bar Blvd., Diamond Bar, 595-7421, or from any chamber member. The deadline is March 20.

Lindow is manager of the Upland Savings and Loan Diamond Bar office. He will succeed John Fisher, president of IGA Insurance Services, Rowland Heights, as chamber president.

Also elected officers in the Walnut Valley Area Chamber are Henry Tetreault, Tetreault Jewelers, Rowland Heights, first vice president; Rhoda Winter, Bank of America, Walnut, second vice president; Dennis Sante, Iodent Chemical Co., Walnut, third vice president; Lorraine Wehlacz, Bank of America, Diamond Bar, treasurer and Tommie Farris, Diamond Bar Travel, Diamond Bar, secretary.

Four new directors also were chosen. They are Frank Baker, Coast Federal Savings and Loan, Diamond Bar; Joe Larutta, Larutta Insurance Agency, Diamond Bar; Sharron Tanzer, Flowers by Sharron, Diamond Bar; and Jack Tasoff, attorney, Rowland Heights.

Continuing directors are Fisher; Hal Hayek, Security Pacific National Bank, Rowland Heights; Robert Imhof, Southern California Edison, Pomona; and E. F. O'Connor, Transamerica Development Co., Diamond Bar.

Tickets are $10 a person and the banquet will get under way at 7 p.m. with a social hour.

SALE OF SCRAP METAL

Sealed bids for the purchase of scrap metal will be received by the Procurement and Support Services Department, Building 75, until 10 a.m., March 19, 1976, at which time and place they will be publicly opened and read. Award will be to the highest bidder meeting the University's requirements as set forth herein.

The scrap metal, including two (2) cooling towers, is located in the Corporation Yard of the Physical Plant Department. Prospective bidders may arrange to inspect the scrap metal by contacting Mrs. Elizabeth Crowell, Warehouse Manager, (714) 598-4071.

Bids will be accepted only on the bid form which will be presented to each potential bidder at the time they inspect the scrap metal. No bids will be accepted which do not include the entire lot of scrap metal, including the two (2) cooling towers. The bidder to whom the bid is awarded will be responsible for cleaning up the scrap metal storage area to the entire satisfaction of Mrs. Crowell.

The successful bidder will remove all scrap metal from the aforementioned site within two (2) consecutive working days commencing the day after the bid has been awarded to the highest bidder. Payment in full to the University will be made to the Property Clerk, Building 75, before the scrap metal is picked up. Payment must be made by certified check payable to "California State Polytechnic University, Pomona" in the full amount of the bid.

The University reserves the right to reject any or all bids.

The successful bidder agrees to indemnify and save harmless the University, its officers, agents, and employees, from any and all loss, damage, or liability that may be suffered or incurred by the University, its officers, agents, and employees, caused by, arising out of or in any way connected with the removal of the said property.

New products bring about home sewing changes

MEADVILLE, Pa. (AP) — Home sewing isn't what it used to be.

In less than 12 years, new products and time-saving sewing techniques have been introduced to the home sewer, who also isn't what she used to be.

"The woman who sews today," says Belle Rivers, vice president, consumer affairs, for Talon, "is interested in sewing as a creative activity and an economic consideration. And as she strives to individualize her looks, she is willing to spend more money in fabrics and sewing notions."

Because of these trends, Mrs. Rivers feels more home sewers need to become conscientious consumerists. They must start evaluating products, fabrics and sewing techniques so they receive top value for their sewing dollar and time.

For example, sewing cotton pajamas for children as opposed to purchasing them may not be the wisest use of one's sewing dollar, she points out. Always consider how much you really save by making the home sewn garment.

Mrs. Rivers was a consumer advocate in the home sewing industry long before "consumerism" became a public watchword. In the early '60s, she initiated a panel that has grown to 900 women who review the company's zipper and sewing notions products and test sewing techniques.

Before beginning a sewing project, Mrs. Rivers suggests, ask yourself these questions:

Is it a wise use of time? Decide if the time and effort you will put into the garment merit the end result. Realize you will probably spend as much time creating a $10 dress as you would a $50 one. Ask yourself which dress is more worth your time.

How much fabric do I need? Carefully check fabric information listed on the pattern. Be sure to save extra yardage, especially when sewing for children. That way, if hems or pants legs need to be lengthened, you can do it easily and profesionally.

Which thread is the best buy? The label answers that question. Companies who put their name on a thread do so only after it has passed rigid quality control tests. Labels also tell you if the thread is compatible with your fabric. An all-polyester thread is the economical buy, because it can be used for practically every sewing need and on both natural and synthetic fabrics.

Will any zipper do? Never buy a zipper that is too short, just to save a dime. You will end up with a space where the zipper ends and material begins. Consider an all-polyester zipper that doesn't need to be pre-shrunk, no matter what fabric you apply it to. And remember, if the zipper and zipper tape are sewn out of sight, as with a lapped application, you don't have to match the zipper color with your fabric shade.

Will the finishing touches last? Appliques that accent children's clothing get a lot of wear and laundering. A good way to keep those patches on, no matter what, is to stitch them in place, as opposed to ironing them on.

Do I want premium aids? Notions are priced in relation to their quality. If you are sewing a garment that has a one-occasion life span, it is not necessary to select premium aids (name brand threads, packaged zippers, etc.). But if you are creating an expensive dress or one that you will wear often, select the best aids for top performance and a professional touch.

Can I buy shortcuts? Select sewing aids that save time no matter what you are creating. For example, Velcro fasteners take one-third the time to apply when compared to snap, hook and eye, or buttonhole application. A stick and stitch basting tape eliminates time consuming pinning, pinholes in ultra-suede material, and makes aligning stripes and plaids fast and easy.

Will the fabric dull aids? The new synthetic fabrics sport finishes that can dull shears and needles, slow down your sewing and hamper product performance. Use the new ballpoint needles for both machine and hand sewing; and a lightweight shears that has high carbon, polished stainless steel bowshaped blades and a peened screw instead of a rivet to ensure a full cut each time.

Am I ready to sew? Be cautious with your purchases. Wash your fabric before you start sewing to eliminate hidden shrinkage. If you feel you must pre-shrink a zipper, don't throw it into the washing machine; just hold it under a running tap of hot water for a minute.

Patriotic event

Crowds see Heritage Fair

An estimated crowd of 30,000 representing 600 Girl Scout troops, their friends and families, converged on the Los Angeles County Fairgrounds Saturday for Spanish Trails Girl Scout Council's Heritage Fair.

The event, volunteer planned and carried out involved hundreds of girls and adults culminating a two-year Bicentennial program for council scouts.

"People began to arrive even before the official 10 a.m. fair opening," Mrs. Abbott Hall, event coordinator for Claremont, commented "and a steady stream of spectators continued throughout the day.

"The fair visitors stood in awe as they viewed more than 300 colorful banners, designed and constructed by Spanish Trails scouts, that depicted our nation's heritage."

The banners were strung across the ceiling of Building 8A under the guidance of Frances Burson, Glendora, banner contest coordinator.

Booths in the two fair buildings held demonstrations and displays which focused on skills and crafts of past eras. Many of the booths provided a "you-try-it" theme with ribbons and patches presented to participants.

"Some of the booths," according to Jackie Bennett, chairman from Rowland Heights, "featured tasty foods from various regions of the country." Norton Riled handled booth set ups.

More than 500 girls inhabited four camping areas on the grounds where they demonstrated camping techniques and equipment.

"A monkey bridge set-up drew quite a crowd," according to Jane Westlake, West Covina.

Dorothy Hawk of San Dimas and Florence Bissell of Upland coordinated the many plays, songs, dances and tableaux set up by the girls.

The outstanding parade commenced at noon with bands from Lowell High School, Whittier, and Pomona High providing the cadence. Senior scouts carried 55 U.S. history flags with Minnie Mouse of Disneyland as grand marshal followed by Girl Scout "Mouseketeers." Floats depicted the nation's history. Famous women in history who were depicted included Betsy Ross, Molly Pitcher and Sacajawea. There were suffragettes, "Bloomer Girls," Sara Barton, Juliette Low and other scout figures represented in the third segment of the parade.

Margaret Jensen, parade coordinator, appeared in a space unit attire along with depictions of other famous American women in the final segment.

An impressive "Flames for Freedom" closing of the fair was held in the amphitheater. Pat Newton, council president, rekindled her taper which had been lighted by Mrs. Gerald R. Ford at the national Girl Scout convention in Washington, D. C. Mrs. Newton then lighted the candles of the council's district and service team chairman who will participate with scouts in their communities and scouts around the world in similar ceremonies to celebrate the Girl Scout 64th birthday on Friday.

Rep. Jim Lloyd, D-35th Dist., was among the visitors. He was formerly a member of the council's public relations committee.

Virginia Jaramillo of Ontario obtained the services of three Explorer Posts of the Ontario Police Department as security people. The Pomona Red Cross was represented by Mr. and Mrs. Leuellen and Officer Barkley on hand to handle emergencies.

Others helping to coordinate the event were: Jean Palmer of Whittier, Myrna Young of West Covina, Joan Reynolds of Claremont, Helen Perry of Whittier, Winifred Ross, Ann Comstock and Linda Weidner of Claremont, B. Lou Axline, Kay Machen of Whittier, Edith Braida of San Dimas, Noralie Clinton of Upland, Mary Hawkins of Pomona, Jan Anderson of Covina. Jo Thorne of Diamond Bar, Pat Cohen of West Covina, Evelyn Grembla of Santa Fe Springs and Linda Lee of Whittier.

KERRY WILLIAMS

Williams and Barb rites set

Miss Kerry B. Williams and Michael E. Barb of Pomona will be married April 10 in the First Assembly of God Church in Pomona.

The future bride, whose guardians are Mr. and Mrs. Delbert E. Barb of Pomona, graduated in mid term from Pomona High School. She is now a student at Mt. San Antonio College.

Son of Mr. and Mrs. Delbert E. Barb of Pomona, the groom-to-be is a 1971 graduate of Pomona High School. He is employed by General Dynamics, Pomona.

June rites slated

Mr. and Mrs. Norman W. Keidel of Covina have announced the engagement of their daughter, Leslie Ann, to Dale Edward Koop, son of Mr. and Mrs. Norbert E. Koop of West Covina.

The bride-elect graduated from Charter Oak High School and received a B. A. degree in psychology from San Diego State University. She is presently affiliated with Inter-Community Hospital, Covina.

Mr. Koop graduated from Don Bosco Technical Institute and received a B. S. degree from Cal Poly, Pomona, where he is presently in the graduate program.

A mid-June wedding is planned.

Joyce Brothers

She's courting failure

DEAR DR. BROTHERS: The last man I was engaged to told me that I was afraid of succeeding at anything and was really in love with failure. I thought he was crazy, but lately I've been wondering what he meant and if maybe he was right.

I'm a commercial artist and I've just missed (and I'm not exaggerating) four high-salaried jobs. Each time, I really knew that the job would soon be offered to me because I was the logical person in line. Each time, I resigned just in the nick of time. At the time, I didn't realize what I was doing and that I was really controlling what happened. The first time, I was sick, the second time I left to see my mother in Oregon, and the last two times, I switched jobs.

I tend to have the same pattern with men. I keep getting up to the altar and then I find reasons to sever the relationship. — W.M.

Dear W.M.: I think, from what you write, that your last boyfriend may have had a point. It sounds to me as if you are in conflict with yourself over whether you want to be a successful professional woman or get married and be a successful wife. I'm not intimating that you can't be both, but I would guess that you unconsciously don't feel this is possible.

All of us, at times, act for conscious reasons, as well as for unconscious ones. We know there are many struggles rooted in the unconscious part of the mental life of the individual. There are wishes and drives as well as fears of the wishes and drives; the result is conflict, sometimes producing such a dangerous and destructive impasse that the individual's progress is totally blocked. The unconscious can be so damaging to work, happiness and to health that it can become the most expensive overhead of all. Conscious and unconscious conflicts that have not been analyzed and solved in the middle years become worse as time goes on.

It is as if each of us has to get to know two selves and the sooner we are introduced and get to really know the two selves, the healthier and the happier we will be. Many physical illnesses are closely related to this type of inner struggle, so it is essential that you face and analyze the source of this problem now while you are still young.

I'm sure you don't consciously want to spend the rest of your life fighting success in your profession and in your personal life. This is a ridiculous waste of energy and time, but unless you seek professional guidance, you are apt to do just this. The unconscious is not so rigid and secretive that it cannot be delved into and reeducated.

By recognizing that you have a problem, you have already taken an important step in overcoming it. If you get some help now, you will probably discover that your life in the future is not only happier, but also much easier to live.

The couple will be married May 15 at Claremont Presbyterian Church.

Teetotaler

St. Patrick was a teetotaler. The patron saint of Ireland has always been credited with bringing usquebaugh (whisky) to the Emerald Isle. But, according to Sally Hopkins, a researcher for Hallmark Cards, St. Patrick himself was an abstainer who didn't mind if others lifted a few.

Protestant

St. Patrick's Cathedral in Dublin is the national church of the Protestant Church of Ireland. The church, one of many buildings and places named for the patron saint of Ireland, was built in 1190, says Hallmark researcher Sally Hopkins. Some of the other memorials to St. Patrick are: St. Patrick's Cathedral in New York, St. Patrick's Seminary in Menlo Park, Calif., St. Patrick County on Trinidad.

New trend in fashion

No-bra look is gone

LOS ANGELES (AP) — People who count such things say that once again it is what's up front that counts.

Brassieres are making a comeback. That much is clear. But there is widespread disagreement about why women are putting the shape-giving undergarments back on in evergrowing numbers.

Feminists shrug off the subject as irrelevant, fashion industry spokesmen are delighted and many men are unsure just what it means.

"The political statement of not wearing a bra is not relevant any more," said Connie Russell, communications director for the Los Angeles National Organization for Women, noting that too many women have been going braless because it is fashionable and not because it says something.

"I don't believe the braless look did anything but ruin women," said Frederick Mellinger, owner of Frederick's of Hollywood. "Fashion has a very funny way of going whole hog one way or another. Women today don't take that kind of strong direction as a whole."

Mellinger, who is in the business of selling brassieres and other feminine garments, said in an interview that the direction is upward and outward for the bra industry.

"Designers have done everything they can to make women look ugly," he said. "A woman who is built normally and who goes without a bra will begin to sag, and this is what has happened over the last few years.

"The sexual revolution must encompass not just a bra but clothing that makes you look good in a bra."

Other bra sellers echo Mellinger. Olga's in Los Angeles reported sales increases from $14 million in 1969 to $31 million in 1975. Spokesmen for Lily of France said sales have soared from $3 million to $13 million in the last three years.

At least one major brassiere manufacturer, Formfit, has reported it is seeing a 25 per cent increase over 1974 in its sales for 1975.

Dr. Joseph Sicignano, assistant professor of psychiatry at UCLA who has taken a special interest in sexual trends, said he believes at least part of the reason for a return to brassieres is economic.

More women wear bras on the job or to go on job interviews, he said.

"I think the no-bra look is associated in some people's minds with sexual revolution and women's liberation," he said. "I think there is a reaction among some of the older, more conservative elements against the values that have been fostered by these movements."

He said, "I would think that when the economy upswings and the stock market goes up, so will skirts. There will be more skin."

Pat Denslow, director of the Los Angeles NOW center, said bralessness in itself really means nothing any more.

"The essential thing about the brassiere," she said, "is that now women have a choice, and if they want to wear one they have a perfect right to, or not to.

"I wear one," she added.

CHAMPION SPELLERS — Eric Robbins, 11, kneeling, won the Yorba School championship with his spelling of "acquaint" in the Pomona school's PTA spelling bee. Capturing the grade level first place trophies were fifth grader Otha Lee, 10, left, with "citizen;" Joe Cabrera, 9, fourth grader, with "coming;" and sixth grader Bambi Cestone, 11, with "chlorophyll."

Supervisors ask for Colton landfill site

San Bernardino County supervisors have adopted a resolution asking the state to select a landfill operation in Colton for the second phase of a solid waste resource recovery system.

Officials plan to present the document to members of the California Solid Waste Management Board at their meeting Thursday in Sacramento.

The state board last summer hired a consultant to study 18 sites and select one for a further study on ways to best manage solid wastes, said county Supervisor Robert Townsend of Chino.

In its report last week, the consultants recommended that sites in both Colton and San Diego be considered for further exploration, he added.

The state board plans to conduct a $260,000 study to determine the best methods of converting solid wastes into energy and also to reclaim such recyclable items as glass, paper and metals.

Colton was selected because of the ready market for refuse-derived fuels that may be developed from the landfill operation, Townsend explained. These include the Kaiser Steel Co. plant in Fontana, Edison Co. steam plant in Etiwanda and area cement plants.

"We can supply some of the needs for fuel by adapting municipal wastes into a form that can burn," he noted. "The study has not shown if the burning of these fuels will meet air pollution control standards."

Townsend estimated that 1,000 tons of refuse are being dumped daily at the Colton site. "A sample made of the trash saw a high potential of fuel sources."

In seeking the recycling study, the supervisor said there is a better way to handle waste than "digging a hole and filling it with trash.

"There will be some refuse that will continue to go into a landfill, but this can be greatly reduced," he said.

Many in valley to join Walk for Disarmament

Many valley residents are expected to join the 50 long-distance walkers, including a delegation of Japanese Buddhist monks, when the Continental Walk for Disarmament and Social Justice travels from La Verne to Claremont Thursday and from Claremont to Ontario Friday.

The trek from Ukiah to Washington, D.C., is sponsored locally by the Pomona Valley Council for Peace, the Claremont Society of Friends and the Collective for a Nonviolent Revolution. The walk is sponsored nationally by 23 social reform and peace organizations, including the American Friends Service Committee; Clergy and Laity Concerned, and the Southern Christian Leadership Conference.

Among those who have taken part in the walk are Dick Gregory, Ralph Abernathy and Daniel Ellsberg.

The public is invited to join the walkers at the La Verne Church of the Brethren, Bonita Avenue and E Street, at noon Thursday to walk to the Friends Meeting House in Claremont, arriving about 3 p.m. The public is also welcome at a potluck, get-together dinner at 6 p.m. Thursday at the United Church of Christ, Congregational, Sixth Street and Harvard Avenue, Claremont. The program will include conversation, singing and information sharing. Reservations can be made at 626-7026 or 626-9885.

The walk will leave Friends Meeting House at 9 a.m. Friday to travel to Christ Episcopal Church, 1127 N. San Antonio Ave., Ontario.

"The walk is dealing with large, complex issues and relationships," according to Steven Taylor of Claremont, a local organizer. "We believe that a people-to-people discussion of major social problems such as unemployment and inflation will show them to be in a large measure the result of massive, unnecessary spending on war production. The call is for unilateral disarmament as an initial step in reducing the waste of a continuing arms race."

No verdict by jury

The murder trial of Gene Autry Jefferson has ended with a West Valley Superior Court jury unable to reach a verdict

The foreman of the seven-woman, five-man jury returned to the courtroom of Judge James Cunningham late Monday afternoon without a verdict. The jury was polled numerous times wtih the poll ending at 10-2 for acquittal.

Deputy Dist. Atty Mary Fuller after hearing the jury results moved immediately to set a new trial for Jefferson. A new trial was tentatively set for April 27 by Judge Cunningham.

Jefferson was charged with the gunshot slaying of Elton Lee, his brother-in-law, on Aug. 23 at the Friendly Corners Bar in Ontario.

Starts Thursday, March 11.

March of Dimes drive led by D.A.

Los Angeles County Dist. Atty. John Van De Kamp has accepted the volunteer chairmanship of the county's March of Dimes campaign.

Van De Kamp has assumed the post formerly held by the late Joseph P. Busch, according to Dorothy Challice, executive director of the Los Angeles Chapter of March of Dimes.

In accepting the assignment, Van De Kamp pledged his support of the organization's goals which are aimed at the prevention of birth defects that affect 200,000 American children each year.

March of Dimes efforts include local research and medical service programs totally more than $500,000 annually.

The organization conducts an annual fund appeal and year-round activities stressing the prevention of birth defects.

Schools give girls self-defense training

Hacienda La Puente schools are providing training in self-defense for many high school girls through special units incorporated in physical education classes.

Appropriate instruction for junior high girls is also in the planning stage, according to Geno Dezzutti, a zone administrator for the school district.

Self-defense units are commonly offered as part of the elective classes in girls' physical education, but at least two district high schools — Workman and Los Altos — now require all freshmen students to take the unit.

In three to six weeks of instruction the girls are taught three cardinal rules of self-defense — prevention (how to avoid dangerous situations); recognition (awareness of potential danger), and appropriate reactions (what to do when threatened or endangered).

All three elements are important, stresses Sally Reclusado, who will teach the self-defense unit at La Puente High School this semester. "Many attacks can be avoided if girls understand how they can avoid and recognize dangerous situations and are trained to take proper precautions."

In class, girls practice ways to break holds and disable an attacker so escape is possible. "Once girls realize that they are capable of injuring a stronger assailant, they become more confident that they can handle a bad situation. It gives them the psychological boost they need to avoid panic," explains Rita Dargaczewski, chairman of girls' physical education at La Puente High.

"Some kids have honest misconceptions about self-defense," adds Laura Lampys, a physical education teacher at Wilson. "They think they have to be Amazons or karate experts to be effective, but that's just not true. Preparedness and surprise are much more important than physical strength in warding off an attack."

In addition to providing information and an opportunity to practice self-defense techniques, the classes also discuss news reports of attacks. "This provides an opportunity for students to analyze appropriate and inappropriate reactions and allows them to ask questions or air concerns that they might otherwise never bring out into the open," Miss Dargaczewski notes.

In addition to the high school units, the district's adult school offers a course in self-defense for women.

That course is held Wednesday nights from 7 to 9 at Wilson High School, physical education room 2 — next to the gym.

Tract appeal left up to new city council

An appeal on a tentative tract denial in San Dimas will be left up to the new City Council.

Merrill Butler, owner of Butler Homes, appealed Monday for reconsideration of the tentative denial to a second phase development of 99 homes on the south side of Foothill Boulevard west of San Dimas Avenue. He asked that the council set the matter for reconsideration on March 22.

Councilman Marvin Ersher asked that the matter be deferred until new members Terry Tipple and Philip Wax are seated. Dipple and Wax defeated incumbents Keith Brogan and Ray Miracle in the municipal election last week.

Ersher moved to table the action and give the new council the option of hearing the appeal. The motion passed on a 3-2 vote with Miracle and James McLean joining Ersher against Mayor Jim Lough and Brogan's opposition to tabling the matter.

In other action, the council awarded a contract for improvement of Walnut Avenue to A.M. Paving Co. of Whittier for its low bid of $27,223. The engineer's estimate for the project from Gladstone Street to 200 feet south of Allen Avenue was $35,000. The city saved nearly $8,000 on the street improvement

NOTICE OF TRUSTEE'S SALE
T.S. No. 75-26182

On April 15, 1976, at 10:00 A.M. FEDERAL NATIONAL MORTGAGE ASSOCIATION, as duly appointed Trustee under and pursuant to Deed of Trust dated July 16, 1975 recorded July 18, 1975, as inst. No. 1985, in book T9535, page 91, of Official Records in the office of the County Recorder of Los Angeles County, State of California, will sell at public auction to highest bidder for cash (payable at time of sale in lawful money of the United States) at the entrance to the Los Angeles County Courthouse, at 101 West First Street, in the city of Los Angeles, California, all right, title and interest conveyed to and now held by it under said Deed of Trust in the property situated in said County and State described as:

Lot 41 of Tract No. 21307, in the City of Pomona, in the County of Los Angeles, State of California, as per map recorded in Book 576, Pages 22 to 24 of Maps, in the office of the County Recorder of said County.

The street address and other common designation, if any, of the real property described above is purported to be: 2121 Rollins Way, Pomona, Calif. 91767

The undersigned Trustee disclaims any liability for any incorrectness of the street address and other common designation, if any, shown herein.

Said sale will be made, but without covenant or warranty, express or implied, regarding title, possession, or encumbrances, to pay the remaining principal sum of the note(s) secured by said Deed of Trust, to-wit: $19,987.87, with interest thereon, as provided in said note(s), advances, if any, under the terms of said Deed of Trust, fees, charges and expenses of the Trustee and of the trusts created by said Deed of Trust.

The beneficiary under said Deed of Trust heretofore executed and delivered to the undersigned a written Declaration of Default and Demand for Sale, and a written Notice of Default and Election to Sell. The undersigned caused said Notice of Default and Election to Sell to be recorded in the county where the real property is located.

Date: March 1, 1976.

Entertainment

Student art show planned

The Pomona Valley Art Association will hold its annual Student Scholarship Show at the Gallery, 300 S. Park Ave., Pomona, March 23 through April 17. The theme is "People, Places, Activities in Our Country or Our State."

The 24th annual show is cosponsored by Pomona First Federal Savings & Loan Association. It is open to all junior and senior high school art students in the valley. Notices of the contest have been sent to art teachers at local schools.

Entries can be in any size, medium and form. Judges will award 30 art-study scholarships and 15 trophies and ribbons. All work must have been completed since last September.

Entries can be delivered to the gallery from noon to 4 p.m. next Tuesday through March 18; from noon to 6 p.m. March 19; and from 10 a.m. to 2 p.m. March 20. Judging will be held March 22.

Winners will be announced at a reception for students, parents, art teachers and friends at the gallery from noon to 2 p.m. March 27.

Further information can be obtained from scholarship chairman Esther Martin, (213) 334-8966, or from Joyce Goerner at the gallery, 622-9967.

VCT awarded $9,500 grant

Valley Community Theatre has been awarded a grant of $9,500 by the National Endowment for the Arts for the support of community theatrical programs.

The announcement was made today by Rep. Jim Lloyd, D-35th Dist.

"I'm glad to see this fine theater group get recognized for its work with youth and in community service through the receipt of this grant," Lloyd said.

The money will be used to support VCT presentations at rest homes, hospitals and prisons, to continue its active theater education program and youth training classes, and to present the annual New Voices Showcase, an original play writing competition.

VCT, at 132 E. Third St., Pomona, is currently presenting the musical, "Canterbury Tales," at 8:30 Friday and Saturday nights. Reservations can be made at 622-6954.

KENTWOOD CUTUPS — Members of the Kentwood Choir of England pose for a picture in their costumes from "Oliver." The singers will present concerts at 4 p.m. Sunday and 8 p.m. Monday at the Pomona Moose Lodge, 300 S. San Antonio Ave. Reservations can be made at 622-1825.

Rock concert slated

Otis, a new local rock group, will present "A Rockin' Eve" under the auspices of the Claremont Parks and Recreation Department at Taylor Hall at 8:30 p.m. Friday.

Otis is made up of Clancy Grower, lead guitar and vocals; Tom Steed, bass and vocals; Mitch Davis, keyboards and vocals, and Bob Hughes, percussion.

Also appearing will be Featherstitch, a West Covina band, and Mac Pinch, a Claremont area group.

Tickets are $2.

BARBARA RUSH stars with Shirley Knight in the Broadway hit, "Kennedy's Children," bowing at the Huntington Hartford Theater, Hollywood, March 31.

Local singers booked

Five local singers will take part in a presentation of Bach's B Minor Mass with the William Hall Chorale and Orchestra at the Pavilion of the Los Angeles Music Center at 7:30 p.m. Sunday.

They are Robert Terrill of Claremont and Ken Sink, Dan Bridston, Clarence Parker and George Vaughan, all of Pomona.

The B-Minor Mass contains some of Bach's greatest choral writing and features a large chorus and orchestra as well as six soloists. For this concert soloists will be Amanda De Rycke, soprano; Diane Thomas, mezzo-soprano; Janet Smith, contralto; Jonathan Mack, tenor; Craig Fields, baritone; and John Miller, bass. All are award-winning vocalists who have performed extensively in the Southland. The 130-voice chorale will be directed by Hall, professor of music at Chapman College and minister of music at the First United Methodist Church in Glendale.

Tickets for the concert range from $8.50 to $3.

Pomona sets black drama

The Pomona College theater department will present an all-black performance of Arthur Miller's "Death of a Salesman" in Holmes Hall at 8 p.m. March 25 through 28 and at 2 p.m. March 28. Isaiah Sanders directs.

" 'Death of a Salesman' is one of the few plays considered a modern tragedy, possible only if one believes in the 'American dream'," a drama department spokesman said. "The Loman family has been deliberately cast black to allow the 'American dream' element to work and to add a new dimension to the play."

Tickets are $2.50 general, and $1 for students. Information can be obtained at 626-8511, Ext. 3181.

Bing will ring

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Bing Crosby and Liza Minnelli will help the telephone company celebrate its 100th anniversary.

The pair will be hosts for "Bell Telephone Jubilee" on NBC-TV March 26. Other entertainers on the program are Joel Grey, Ben Vereen, Roy Clarke, Steve Lawrence, Edyie Gorme and Marvin Hamlisch.

English choir due in Pomona

The 45-voice Kentwood Choir from Swindon, England, will present concerts at the Pomona Moose Lodge, 300 S. San Antonio Ave., at 4 p.m. Sunday and at 8 p.m. Monday.

Foothill District 14 of the Loyal Order of Moose is host to the all-girl choir which arrives from England Friday for a concert tour of Southern California. Members of the Moose will house the young singers during their local sojourn.

The Kentwood Choir has been giving concerts all over England to raise funds for the American tour. The girls will visit and perform at Disneyland later.

Reservations for the two Pomona concerts can be made by calling 622-1825.

'1776' set for 1976

LOS ANGELES (AP) — It had to happen. Columbia Pictures is re-releasing the musical '1776' for this bicentennial year.

The 1972 film opens in Hollywood today.

Artist to do portrait

Artist Bernice Kelley will demonstrate portrait painting at a meeting of the Diamond Bar Artists Guild at the Golden Springs School, Diamond Bar, at 7:30 p.m. Thursday.

Miss Kelley has had several one-man shows in Southern California and is active as a teacher and demonstrator. She works in many styles and mediums.

The Diamond Bar Artists Guild will have an arts and crafts show and sale at Ralph's shopping center in Fullerton from 10 a.m. to 5 p.m. Saturday. Information on the meeting and the show can be obtained at 585-1608.

$195 billion for pollution

CHICAGO (AP) — More than $195 billion will be spent by American industry on water pollution control equipment over the next decade, according to Ecodyne Corp.

The firm said the amount represented three times the total 1975 Gross National Product of The Netherlands.

Outdoor drama on DeSota

HOT SPRINGS, Ark. (AP) — "Hernando DeSoto, Conquistador," an outdoor drama, will premiere June 25 in the Mid-American Amphitheater near here.

The Hot Springs National Park Foundation for the Performing Arts is producing the drama based on DeSoto's 1541 discovery of the thermal waters here.

Orange Show set

The 61st National Orange Show will salute the Bicentennial during its 11-day run starting Thursday at the fairgrounds in San Bernardino.

"Citrus Salutes America," the overall theme, will be reflected in the Citrus Feature Exhibits Building, in the grounds decorations and in the stage productions in Swing Auditorium.

The traditional Exchange Club kickoff luncheon will open the show at noon Thursday, followed by the fourth annual California Citrus Queen's Parade at 3 p.m. and the Queen Pageant at 7 p.m. in Swing Auditorium. KNBC commentator John Barbour is the keynote speaker for the Exchange lunch.

Free stage entertainment in Swing this year will include Freddie Prinze, Saturday; Bob Hope, Sunday; The Lockers, Monday, Dennis Day, Tuesday; the Ink Spots, next Wednesday; Skiles & Henderson, March 18; Buddy Ebsen, March 19; Los Camperos, Lalo Rdriguez, Jose Gonzales Gonzales and Mariachi Tapatio, March 20; and the Billy Armstrong Show, featuring Glenn Ash and Rusty Draper, March 21.

The popular rock groups Lynyrd Skynyrd and the Outlaws will appear in concert in Swing on Friday. Advance sale tickets, priced at $6.50 will admit the bearer to the grounds.

Some of the highlights:

— Eleven color guards from California and Arizona will compete for honors at 2 p.m. Saturday in the "Parade of Colors" between the Hobby and Feature Buildings.

— The American Legion Armed Forces Parade will start at 11:20 a.m. Sunday from downtown San Bernardino and proceed south on E Street to the show grounds. Approximately 6,000 people will participate, including the 1,976-member California Cavalcade of Bands.

— The Cavalcade of Bands will present an hour-long concert in the Stadium at 4:30 p.m. Sunday.

— Nine kitchen and novelty bands will compete on Senior Citizens Day, Tuesday, from noon to 6 p.m. in Swing.

— A Bicentennial cake decorating contest is scheduled from noon to 5 p.m. Tuesday in the Feature Exhibits Building.

— The Citrus Pie Bake-off for the junior division is planned for noon next Wednesday in Swing Auditorium.

— The labor and pest control situations in the citrus industry will come under scrutiny at the Citrus Institure scheduled to start at 9 a.m. March 18 in the Restaurant. Five experts will present papers on both subjects to growers who will be admitted free to the grounds that day. There will be free parking until 11 a.m.

— The Citrus Pie Bake-off in the senior division will be held at noon March 18 in Swing.

— A Bicentennial Room, containing citrus nostalgia items and alcoves furnished in early American decor, will be available for viewing. Herbal tea will be served in a general store setting, and homemakers will bake bread in an old-fashioned kitchen.

— Americans of Mexican heritage will be honored on March 20, with programs at 2:30 and 7:30 in Swing and at ceremonies at Stage II from 11 a.m. until 11 p.m.

— Future Farmers of America's Junior Livestock Auction is scheduled at 6 p.m. on March 20. Champion beeves, swine and lambs will go to the highest bidders.

— Rodeo events will be held in the stadium at 2 and 7:30 p.m. March 20, and at 2 p.m. March 21. Top riders from throughout the country will compete for cash prizes and points in the national standings.

—International baton twirling competition will be held all day both March 20 and 21 in the Lagoon area.

— Holter's Movieland Petting Zoo and Bob Baker Marionettes are major free attractions through the run of the show. "Stiltman" will again roam the grounds each day sporting his "costume of the day."

Other highlights include the All California Art Exhibition, the Flower and Garden Show and the Hobby and Craft Show.

GOING STRONG — Ray Bolger, dancing star of stage and screen for more than 50 years, is alive and well and appearing in "The Entertainer" on NBC-TV at 9 o'clock tonight. The 72-year-old actor plays Jack Lemmon's father.

In 1886 Robert Love Taylor, a Democrat, defeated his brother, Alfred Alexander Taylor, Republican, for the governorship of Tennessee in one of the most remarkable political contests ever conducted in any state. The campaign was called "The War of the Roses" because the candidates traveled over the state together, Bob wearing a red rose and Alf a white rose so their followers could tell them apart.

Airmen of Note plans concerts

The Airmen of Note, official jazz ensemble of the U. S. Air Force, will give concerts in the Chino High School Gymnasium at 7:30 p.m. March 18; in the Chaffey College Gymnasium at noon March 20; and in the Citrus College Auditorium at 7 p.m. March 21. Admission is free to all three concerts.

The Airmen, conducted by Sgt. Dave Napier, was formed in 1950 as a successor to the original Glenn Miller Army Air Corps Band. Its personnel over the years has included former members of the bands of such men as Harry James, Les Brown, Billy May and Les Elgart.

The group has performed in more than 300 cities in 25 countries. It has played on radio and television and has a radio series, "Serenade in Blue," produced by the Air Force Recruiting Service.

Baseball must try to heal its wounds

Progress Bulletin
Sports
Pomona, California ■ Wednesday, March 10, 1976

NEW YORK (AP) — Representatives of major league baseball's players and club owners, apparently further apart than they've ever been in their current complex contract negotiating sessions, meet again Thursday in Tampa, Fla., with the first order of business to heal the wounds of Tuesday's meeting.

The owners took salvos from two different directions Tuesday. On one hand, Marvin Miller, the executive director of the players' association, leveled a blast at them, accusing them of issuing misinformation and trying to divide the players.

But the biggest blast of the day came from the relative calm of a courtroom in St. Louis where a three-judge Appeals Court ruled unanimously against the owners and affirmed the decision of arbitrator Peter Seitz, who granted free-agent status to pitchers Andy Messersmith and Dave McNally.

It effects only the two pitchers this year—but if the decision stands and no compromise between the players union and owners is forthcoming, it could mean every player without a multi-year contract could be a free agent by the start of the 1978 season.

It was the second court setback for the owners. They have only one more appeal—the U.S. Supreme Court.

The players' 24 player representatives, two league representatives, plus Miller and players union counsel Dick Moss will be holding an executive board meeting Thursday in Tampa.

They invited the 24 club owners to attend but the invitation was accepted instead by the owners' Player Relations Committee and John Gaherin, its chief negotiator.

The next official bargaining session is set for Friday in St. Petersburg, Fla.

Tuesday's three-hour session, the 26th thus far, ended in acrimony with Miller charging the owners with "negotiating over our heads...Their public relations campaign creates a lot of problems. We have to spend a lot of time correcting the misinformation that the owners put out."

Miller said he had uncovered an attempt by one club—he declined to identify it—to put out a phony survey of its players. He said the players were asked one question, then the players' answer to a different question was placed on a telegram.

Miller also said the recent public statements of several players was proof that the owners were conducting a "campaign of misinformation. We can't spend our time continually putting out the fires...I'm not complaining. I'm merely explaining the results of their action."

Miller said a major problem remaining was the owners' insistence that he retroactively strip his players of their rights won in the Seitz decision and now upheld by two federal courts.

The owners insist any basic agreement would retroactively cancel out the Seitz decision, which allows every player with a 1976 individual contract to become a free agent in 1977 if he doesn't sign for 1976 and in 1978 if he does sign in '76 but refuses to sign for '77.

Miller says taking away the players' free agent rights would open the union to potential damage suits. Two of his suggestions to end the retroactivity problem, he said, were again rejected by the owners.

In one, he would try to get as many players as he could to sign waivers of their rights won in the Seitz decision. Meanwhile, the players and owners would arrive at a collectively bargained change in the reserve system and a new collective agreement.

The owners would decide on what they consider a non-tolerable number of non-waiver players, then match that figure against Millers' number of waivers. "If the non-waivers are under the tolerable figure, we'd have an agreement," Miller said. "If not, all bets are off."

The second suggestion would be for Miller to get permission from his executive board to allow teams to approach players individually about inserting special covenants in their contracts. In those covenants, a player could promise not to play out his option for an individually agreed-upon number of years.

In the meantime, while appeals and negotiations go on, spring training camps remain closed on the owners' orders, exhibition games are being canceled and the start of the 1976 season is being threatened. The owners have said they won't open the camps until an agreement is reached or there is real progress towards reaching one.

Commissioner Bowie Kuhn, who could order the owners to open the camps and get activity under way, has thus far remained pretty much out of the picture so far.

"I continue to urge daily meetings between the two sides in an effort to get this thing solved. If they will really stick at it, I am confident they can get the job done," Kuhn said after Tuesday's bargaining session.

And when asked why he has maintained virtual silence, the commissioner said: "I think enough and maybe too much has been said publicly by everyone involved." He declined comment on the St. Louis court decision.

Moss, the players union counsel, said he was "delighted with the result. Hopefully this will be the end of the matter and the owners can now devote their time to the negotiatiing table and not to litigation."

The owners, of course, were less than delighted with the rejection of their appeal. A statement issued by their Players' Relations Committee said, in part, that they were "naturally disappointed with the decision...There has been no opportunity to read or evaluate the decision.

'THIS IS THE WAY'

Cal Poly's Don Hogan will be instructing his players at tonight's NCAA Division II West Regionals game at Tacoma, Wash. tonight. Hogan is finishing his third season as head coach.

Dodgers won't enter bid war

LOS ANGELES (AP) — The president of the Los Angeles Dodgers says the baseball team won't enter a stratospheric bidding war for pitcher Andy Messersmith, who has been declared a free agent by a federal appeals court.

"I don't think it's good common sense to pay any man two or three times what he's worth," Peter O'Malley said in an interview Tuesday.

The announcement came following the signing of two of the Dodgers' last three holdouts, Southpaw pitcher Tommy John and outfielder Bill Buckner signed 1976 contracts Tuesday for what will be a comeback season for both players coming off serious injuries.

The only unsigned Dodger is catcher-outfielder Joe Ferguson.

According to the 8th U.S. Circuit Court of Appeals in St. Louis, Messersmith becomes a free agent effective March 16.

"In the interest of the longevity of the franchise," O'Malley said, "you just can't start playing with Monopoly 'money.' The profit line in professional sports is too thin. I realize that trying to determine a player's worth is a gray area and some franchises might be willing to offer considerable money. But I doubt that this one will."

Messersmith's agent, Herb Osmond, said he already had been contacted by representatives of two teams. Concerning O'Malley's statement, Osmond said, "It sounds to me like he's not going to make a new offer. The Dodgers obviously could get along without Andy.

"But a pitcher of Andy's capabilities could make a heck of a difference to some clubs. Philadelphia, for instance. I think if they got Andy they would have a heck of a chance to win the pennant in the East."

In other developments Tuesday, the Dodgers and the California Angels said they had invoked the so-called Andy Messersmith clause for renewal of contracts with unsigned players. Under that rule, a team may extend a player's contract for an additional year at the same terms of the last year of the player's contract. Under the court ruling on the renewal clause, a player who plays out his option then becomes a free agent.

The teams can continue to negotiate new contract terms despite invoking the renewal clause.

The Angels have eight unsigned players: Bobby Bonds, Andy Hassler, Joe Lahoud, Paul Dade, John Briggs, Billy Smith, Ellie Rodriguez and Sid Monge.

Angel General Manager Harry Dalton said, "In each case it's strictly a matter of dollars. We're continuing to negotiate and no one has said he won't sign until an accord is reached between the owners and Players Association. By invoking the renewal clause, I was simply enforcing our rights."

Ferguson told an interviewer that he did not intend to play out his option with the Dodgers. "We simply are not yet together on terms, but we will continue to negotiate," he said. "Just because I'm now under the renewal clause won't change our negotiations."

John ruptured a ligament in his pitching elbow in July, 1974, and has not played major league ball since. He underwent surgery last year but did not recover sufficiently to return to action with the Dodgers.

Last winter, John, who will be 33 in May, pitched in the Arizona Instructional League and compiled a 3-1 record with a 2.90 earned-run average. John's 12-year major league record stands at 124-106 with a 2.97 ERA.

Buckner played in only 92 games last season following a severe ankle sprain April 18. Before dropping off the squad on Sept. 1, and undergoing surgery, Buckner had hit only .243, compared to his 1974 average of .314, fourth best in the National League.

Both contracts were for one year, but salary terms were not disclosed.

Poly seeks NCAA glory

By BILL LANGLEY
PB Sports Editor

TACOMA, Wash. — Cal Poly makes its first venture into post-season basketball competition in 12 years here tonight with a relaxed and loose feeling.

Most of the Broncos felt their season was over last week when they finished second in the California Collegiate Athletic Association race to Cal State Bakersfield.

But the NCAA selected Poly Sunday to fill the field in the NCAA Division II West Regionals here at Puget Sound tonight and Thursday night to give the Broncs new life.

"I hope we can make a good account of ourselves," Poly Coach Don Hogan said about tonight's 9 o'clock game against host Puget Sound. "I felt we blew it as far as the league is concerned, so this is a chance to redeem ourselves."

Poly is certainly the longshot in the field with its 15-12 season record so it can be said the Broncs have everything to gain and little to lose.

"This team has the understanding of what it takes to win these big games," Hogan continued. "We're probably emotionally as prepared for this as anything else all year."

Puget Sound brings an impressive 22-7 season record, 18-1 against Division II and NAIA opponents, and has the home court advantage.

In this evening's 7 p.m. opener, UC Davis (18-8) faces CCAA Champion Bakersfield (22-4).

The two winners meet for the title at 9 p.m. Thursday following a third place game.

Poly got into the tournament mainly because of its second place finish in the rugged CCAA plus its tough schedule including four games in December on the road against Louisville, Stanford, Houston and Texas. The narrow two-point loss to Pacific-8 Conference foe Stanford apparently played a big part in the selection.

The Broncs' main assets are shooting and quickness.

When the Broncs are hot, they can beat anybody. But an off night means disaster.

As a team, Poly is shooting 48 per cent for the season with three starters over the magic 50 per cent mark.

Guard Joe Sills, who broke Poly's career scoring record last week, is the main threat. The senior has tallied 1,049 points in his two years at Poly and has totaled 654 this season — another school mark — for a 24.2 average, the 16th best nationally on the Division II level.

Sills is shooting at 51.1 per cent from the floor and 83.4 per cent from the foul line.

Junior Jack Gamulin is Poly's second big threat from the outside.

Rowland makes CIF 2-A finals

Amazing Rowland High's basketball team has advanced to the CIF 2-A finals at the Long Beach Arena Saturday afternoon.

Rowland, the second place team in the Montview League, defeated San Marino, 65-57, Tuesday night in the semifinals to earn the right to play Mission Viejo, a 68-43 winner over Moreno Valley in Tuesday's other semi-final game.

Guards Dave Warner and Tom Cenderelli paced the Raiders with 18 and 17 points respectively.

Top-seeded Morro Bay and Arrowhead League champion Big Bear will play for the 1-A title Saturday afternoon while Lynwood and Palm Springs clash for the 3-A crown Saturday night.

In Tuesday's semifinal action, Morro Bay buried Pasadena Poly, 85-59; Big Bear downed Chadwick, 59-49; Palm Springs ousted Fullerton, 60-51; and Lynwood edged Ramona, 67-63.

The 4-A semifinals are slated Friday night at Long Beach with Long Beach Poly playing Verbum Dei and Buena meeting Muir.

NCAA to TV three games

KANSAS CITY (AP) — The National Collegiate Athletic Association announced Monday the television schedule for Saturday's first-round games in the NCAA basketball playoffs.

Two of the games will be shown nationally by NBC, but the nation will be split for two other games that the network will televise. The schedule calls for about six hours of college basketball telecasts Saturday.

At 9 a.m. PST, the upper eastern part of the country will see Princeton and Rutgers, while the rest of the nation will see the game between North Carolina and Alabama.

Indiana meets St. John's in the second game at 11 a.m. PST, and Cincinnati takes on Notre Dame in the third game at 1 p.m. PST.

The NCAA said TVS, Inc., was making arrangments to televise many of the other games.

Leos gain split with Arizona St.

Tempe — La Verne College snapped a four-game losing streak Tuesday in splitting a twi-night doubleheader with Arizona State.

The Loes (3-8) outscored the Sun Devils, 10-7, in the first game and lost the second by the same score.

La Verne outhit ASU, 27-25, in the slugfests. But the Leo hurling couldn't stop the Sun Devil hitters either. The Leopards held a 7-4 lead in the second game going into the last of the eighth inning.

However ASU scored six runs on five hits, two walks and a sacrifice fly to win.

In the first game, the Leopards were leading, 9-2 going into the last of the eighth with big Joe McLaughlin coasting along.

But he gave way to Paul McGuire with the bases loaded, two runs in and only one out. McGuire finally retired the side, but only after three more runs had scored. McLaughlin (1-0) got his first win.

The Leopards' big inning was the fifth in which they scored six runs. Key hit was a bases loaded double by John Edwards. But Steve Watson topped the Leos with three RBIs.

Wayne Redfearn swung a hot bat in the nightcap. The Ontarian had a perfect night at the plate with five singles in five at bats. He knocked in a run and scored once. But Edwards also had a good game. The husky catcher-DH-first baseman had three hits in the nightcap to give him five in the two games.

Tim Burzette, who caught both games, had his best outing in the second contest with three hits.

McGuire, who was lucky in picking up a save in the first game, couldn't hold the second one for Jim Vallone (1-4). Vallone, has done the best pitching but has the worst record on the staff.

The Leos are off until Saturday when they open conference play hosting Occidental (2-1) for two games.

Kings come alive in 6-1 blitz

LOS ANGELES (AP) — High-scoring Butch Goring and Marcel Dionne shot back into the scoring column as the Los Angeles Kings blitzed the Vancouver Canucks with four first period goals to win 6-1.

"When we came in here we had a chance to get into a tie for first place because the Kings were down and we were hot," said Canucks' Coach Phil Maloney. "But we played the worst first period I've ever seen. We came up stiff."

The Kings scored five times Tuesday night before Vancouver's John Gould got a shot past Kings' goalie Gary Edwards with 15:37 left to play in the game. The win snapped a three-game losing streak for Los Angeles and a four-game unbeaten streak for the Canucks. The loss prevented Vancouver from moving into tie with Chicago in the Smythe Division of the National Hockey League.

Goring, who scored two goals and added an assist, had gone 12 games without a goal. "It's nice to start scoring again," he said. "Maybe we'll get hot. We haven't scored the first goal too often lately. Getting the first goal tonight gave us a big lift. It gave us the confidence we needed."

The Kings had lost four of their last five before Tuesday night.

Los Angeles Coach Bob Pulford said, "Getting those four goals in the first period was the best first period that we've played all year. We executed well all over the ice. It shows that we can do it."

Dionne scored his first goal in the past three games and added two assists.

Bob Nevin, a Kings veteran, said, "We have to build up a head of steam for the playoffs and this win might help us get a streak going. Getting the first goal took the pressure off us because we had been losing at home."

Tom Williams opened the first period scoring on a Los Angeles power play, and Mike Corrigan gave the Kings a 2-0 lead with his 16th goal of the season. Then Goring drilled his first of the game and 25th of the season at 11:11 and Dionne connected with his 35th goal of the season on an unassisted goal.

Defenseman Harold Sneps of Vancouver was taken to the hospital in the first period when he nearly severed an ear as he fell on a skate of his goalie, Gary Smith.

The Kings fifth goal came off the stick of Whitey Widing. Goring added the last score.

Upland girls beat Cavs

Upland High's girls basketball team, led by Linda McKuen's 19 points, topped Montclair Tuesday afternoon, 47-35.

Montclair's defensive efforts held down Upland's high-powered offense, but it was not enough as the Highlanders' San Antonio League mark improved to 2-0 and the Cavs' dropped to 0-2.

Ann Dittmer led Montclair with 15 points.

SUPERSTAR — George Best, British soccer star, will play with the Los Angeles Aztecs in Claremont Saturday afternoon.

George Best, Aztecs appear in Claremont

George Best, one of the world's best soccer players, will appear with the Los Angeles Aztecs in a exhibition match against Claremont United Saturday at 3 p.m. at Pomona-Pitzer's Alumni Field.

Best and the Aztecs will play a team made up of coaches and players from area schools including coaches Charles Seward of Pomona-Pitzer, Steve Davis of Claremont-Mudd, Ron Vosper of Pomona High.

It will also feature three former All-CIF players from Claremont High. Two of them, Bobby Pouster and David Goldstein, are on Claremont-Mudd's soccer team. The third, Ron Thomas, plays for Pomona-Pitzer.

Purpose of the game, sponsored by the Claremont Soccer Booster Club, is to raise funds to send the Claremont High soccer team on a three-week trip to Europe where it will play in at least six major cities.

Admission will be $2 for adults, $1 for children 16 and under students with I.D. cards.

Tickets are available at The Sportsman, 141 Harvard, Peterson's Pharmacy, 863 W. Foothill and the danson, 109 Yale, all in Claremont and at Alumni Field's Sixth St. gate.

There will be two preliminary games before the Aztecs-Claremont United game.

At 10:30 a.m. the Claremont Kings and San Diego Bolivians in a Pacific Soccer Playoff which will eventually determine the Southern California championship. Eight Los Angeles County teams are currently in the process of playing eight San Diego County teams.

At 1 p.m., there will be an AYSO Playoff game between the Claremont Thunderbirds and Upland Cheetahs. The two teams are in girls division two which is 13, 14 and 15-year-olds.

The itinerary for Claremont High's soccer team in Europe will include games in Amsterdam (Holland), Munich and Berlin (Germany), Salzburg (Austria) and London, England.

Best was discovered in his native Belfast, Ireland at age 17. He went on to lead England's Manchester United team to the European Cup and two English League championships.

The 29-year-old former European Soccer Player of the Year was lured out of retirement by the Aztecs. He recently thrilled crowds at an exhibition Chaffey JC when he scored three goals and put on a brilliant display of ball handling.

Melugin all-league

Chico State's Gary Melugin, a product of Pomona's Ganesha High and Mt. San Antonio College, was named to the All-Far Western Conference basketball team by the coaches.

UC Davis' Mark Olsen, the only repeat player from last year, heads the all-conference team.

Also voted to the first team were Les Carlson of Sacramento State, Dave Bailey of UC Davis and Jerry Lankford of San Francisco State.

Second team players were: Ken Banford, Hayward; Julius Bolds, Sacramento; Nehemiah Brown, San Francisco; Rick Harville, Stanislaus St.; and Jim Schreiner, Chico State.

UC Davis and Chico State tied for the conference championship but Davis earned the bid to the NCAA Division II palyoffs because of its two wins over Chico.

Prize money for the U.S. Women's Open golf championship to be played in Springfield, Pa., this summer will be $60,000, up $5,000 over last year.

Mounties battle to 6-6 deadlock

Mt. San Antonio College battled Santa Barbara CC to a 6-6 tie Tuesday afternoon in a game halted by darkness, while in another JC baseball tilt Santa Ana rocked Chaffey 9-4.

Visiting Santa Barbara rallied for a game-tieing run in the top of the ninth, and after the Mounties had batted in the last of the inning the game was called.

The tie leaves MSAC with a 8-3-1 season mark.

The Mounties had rallied themselves from a 5-3 deficit to take a 6-5 lead in the seventh inning. Dan Gans triple drove in the fifth MSAC run, and Tracy Cowger picked him up with a double.

Cowger finished the day with four of MSAC's ten hits.

Chaffey's loss evened the Panthers' record at 6-6 for the season. Santa Ana picked up nine hits off of four Chaffey pitchers and took advantage of five walks given up by Panther starter Mike Coppess. Three Chaffey errors contributed three unearned runs to the Don attack.

Murray Daniels had a solo homer for Chaffey in the second, while Craig Hendricks and Steve Till both had three hits for the visitors.

MSAC will open its South Coast Conference season Thursday at Grossmont, while Chaffey will also travel south to open its Mission Conference campaign at Southwestern. Both those games are slated for 2:30 p.m. starts.

Prep spikers open league campaigns

By MIKE BROSSART
PB Staff Writer

San Antonio League and Hacienda League track teams will spring into loop action Thursday with eight dual meets scheduled for 3:15 p.m.

The SAL schedule will find Ganesha at Garey, Pomona at Chino, Damien at Upland and Claremont at Montclair, while the Hacienda slate will send Bonita to Sierra Vista, Royal Oak to Ontario, Walnut to Alta Loma and Gladstone to San Dimas.

Pomona's Red Devils, defending SAL champions, appear to be the team to beat again this year on the strength of pre-league performances. The Devils demolished Fontana (92-26) and Eisenhower (79-39) in dual meets the past two weeks.

Barry Boettcher and Hank Zibell, two of the valley's top prep track and field athletes in 1975, are back to lead this year's Pomona squad.

Boettcher owns the fastest mile and two-mile times of any SAL runner thus far. His 9:41.4 two mile is the best yet recorded in the valley, and his 4:28.9 mile is second only to a 4:24.8 clocking turned in by Chaffey's Tim Mattison. Boettcher has doubled in both Pomona meets.

Zibell's best shot put of 57 feet, 10 inches is nearly 5½ feet longer than that of any other valley putter. And in Pomona's Red and White Games, a non-official intrasquad event, Zibell broke the school record with a heave of 60-3.

Pomona also boasts the valley's best relay times — 43.3 seconds in the 440-yard race and 3:30.5 in the mile.

Sprinter Terry Andrews of Pomona has turned in the valley's second-fastest 220 in 22.6. The only area athlete with a better time in that event is Garey's freshman spring sensation, Morris Cole.

Cole has quickly established himself as the top local sprinter with times of 10.0 in the 100 and 22.2 in the 220. Jim Donaldson of Pomona has also turned in a 10.0 in the 100, but Cole's 220 time stands alone.

Garey also boasts the valley's best long jump mark — a 21-5½ by defending CIF 3-A champ Stanley Webster — and relay times of 44.1 in the 440 and 3:30.5 in the mile.

Ganesha's feature performer is Lloyd Jones, one of the premier hurdlers in the CIF. Jones has recorded a 14.4 in the 120 highs and a 38.9 in the 330 lows.

Upland looks very strong in the field events this year — especially the high jump and the pole vault. The Highlanders boast the top two local vaulters in Cliff Juell and Bob Dalquest, both of whom have gone 13 feet. And sophomore Kent Byer broke the school high jump record last week when he cleared 6-5½. Middle-distance man Casey Cox should also earn the Scots some points this year.

Claremont's best individual performer is Kelly Gordien, the CIF 3-A champion in the high jump last year as a sophomore with a 6-6¼ mark. Gordien's best to date this season is 6-4.

The 'Pack also boasts a 13-foot pole vaulter in senior Dee Dillon.

Ontario will depend largely on its sprinting corp — led by Elijah Bishop (10.2 in the 100) and Nolen Diggs (23.1 in the 220) — for its HL title defense. The Jaguars will also count on jumper James Byers and shot putter Carl Hemby.

Alta Loma has a pair of top performers this year in Joel Hope and Dave Toupal, a transfer from Baldwin Park. Hope has a 1:58.7 clocking in the 880 to his credit as well as a 9:42.9 in the two mile.

Toupal has cleared 6-5½ in the high jump and is also a hurdler.

The top shot putter in the Hacienda League to this point is San Dimas' Sonny LaFargue, who has heaved it 52-2.

Poly women's team heads for Regionals

Like the men, Cal Poly's women's basketball team is headed for post-season action.

Coach Darlene May's Broncos will compete in the Western Association of Intercollegiate Athletics for Women Regionals at San Jose State this weekend.

Poly will play Nevada Reno at 5 p.m. Friday with Biola and UC Irvine clashing at 7 p.m. The two winners meet for the Regionals championship Saturday at 6 p.m.

The San Jose champion will advance to the national small college finals at Ashland, Ohio on March 24-27.

Poly takes a 15-4 season record to San Jose. The Broncos finished third in their league behind UCLA and Cal State Fullerton, who will compete nationally on the major college level.

Mary Reichert is Poly's top scorer and rebounder with 13.1 and 12.3 averages respectively. Also scoring in double figures are Barbara Thaller (11.4), Joan Uhl (10.5) and Linda Scheenstra (10.2).

CAUGHT AT THIRD — Fontana High's Dave Bray is out at third base on an attempt steal as Ganesha third sacker Mike Dorsch applies the tag. Steelers edged the Giants 3-2 in prep baseball action Tuesday afternoon.

Fontana hands Ganesha a loss

By JIM McCONNELL
PB Staff Writer

Fontana High held on Tuesday afternoon to edge Ganesha 3-2 in a non-league baseball contest played on the Giants' diamond.

The win was the first of the year for the Steelers (now 1-2-2) while the loss was Ganesha's first after three wins.

The game was well-played for an early season outing and both teams received strong pitching. Doug Bryant, with seventh-inning relief help from Rick Silverthorne, picked up the win for Fontana. Ganesha's Joe Jones went the distance for the losers.

Jones looked sharp against a potent Steeler offense, fanning six and not walking a batter. However, Fontana was able to bunch its eight hits enough to account for three runs.

The visitors lit up the scoreboard first, scoring a tally in the top of the first on Jim Padula's booming triple to right-center. Padula's blast drove home Allen Smith, who had reached on an error.

With Padula at third and one out, Jones battled his way out of trouble by getting cleanup hitter Dave Bray on a tap to the mound and catching Darrell Sconiers looking at a third strike.

Jones kept the Steeler batters quiet the next few innings, and the Giants rallied to tie the score at 1-1 in the last of the third as Ron LaPere walked, took second on a ground out, and scored as Joe Madrigal lashed a single to center.

Fontana finally reached Jones for two go-ahead runs in the sixth, but the Giant righthander provided his own undoing in the frame.

Bray and Sconiers stroked two-out singles, bringing to bat Dan McDermott. Jones had fanned McDermott on off-speed stuff his first two times up, and got two quick strikes on the Steeler left-fielder in this situation.

However, Jones hung a curve ball on the 0-2 pitch and McDermott promptly knocked it into right-center for a double, scoring both Bray and Sconiers.

The Giants rallied in the last of the sixth off of a tiring Bryant for one run, as LaPere drew another walk, Jeff Seaman singled him to third, and Bryant committed a balk to bring home the tally.

Thus Ganehsa had closed to within one and had the tieing run at second with no outs. But Bryant got tough in the clutch, fanning Madrigal and getting ground outs from Danny Houck and Ken Dudley.

Silverthorne came on in the last of the seventh to retire the bottom three Giants in the batting order to ice the win.

Ganesha will continue its pre-league season Friday afternoon at Baldwin Park. Fontana will open Citrus Belt League action Friday afternoon by hosting San Gorgonio.

Spartans top Cathedral

By SEAN SULLIVAN
PB Correspondent

Sophomore Rich Bustos retired the last nine hitters he faced as the Spartans erupted for three runs in the fifth inning to down visiting Cathedral 8-6 Tuesday afternoon at Damien High.

The hosts tightened the 4-1 deficit in the fourth as rightfielder Ken Normington singled with the bases loaded to score two runs.

As Spartans came to bat in the fifth, Phanton pitcher Albert Betancourt walked three straight. Spartan third-sacker Eddie Enriquez then singled in Rick Goodin and Bob Alexander to give Damien a 5-4 lead.

At that point Betancourt, who allowed only scattered hits in the first few innings, was pulled in place of Joe Torrez who countered by stopping the Spartan offense in the inning.

Spartans got on the board first as Normington beat out an infield roller in the first inning to allow Enriquez, who reached on on a walk, to score.

But the second inning was disastrous for Bustos and the Spartans as the Phantoms got three unearned runs in the frame.

"We really settle down after that inning," recalled Spartan skipper Matt Kolodge, "after Bustos stopped being overcautious he did pretty well."

Bustos struck out nine hitters as well as not allowing a hit in the third through sixth innings.

"We're going to be inconsistent this year," predicted Kolodge. "We have a lot of inexperience but we'll have to eliminate the mistakes."

The mistakes Kolodge referred to came six-fold in the contest. The Spartans miscues accounted for three of the visitors' six runs.

The win ups the Spartans record to 3-2. Damien sees action again today, hosting Nogales at 3:15 p.m.

Hairston files suit

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Former Los Angeles forward Happy Hairston sued the Lakers Monday for $145,000 he claims he is owed for the 1975-76 season.

Hairston, placed on waivers by the Lakers last Oct. 21, said in the Superior Court suit that the amount is owed him for a three-year contract he signed with the team in 1972.

Japanese vaulter shines at MSAC

Pole vaulter Itsuo Takenezawa of Toyo University of Japan, cleared 18 feet, 1¼ inches Tuesday afternoon at Mt. San Antonio College to highlight a non-scoring track meet involving teams from MSAC and Toyo as well as several "outside" athletes.

Takenezawa's vault surpassed the Japanese national record, but will not count as the new Japanese standard. Takenezawa missed three times at 17-6, which officially ended his vaulting for the day. But he cleared that height on his fourth try and went on to the 18-1¼ level.

Toyo high jumper Katsuhiro Kagei, the Japanese national champion, went 6-9 to beat MSAC's Gary George, who cleared 6-7.

The sprints were swept by brothers Vernon and Vernell Ferguson of the West Coast Jets. Vernon won the 100-meter and 400-meter races (10.5 and 47.5 seconds) while Vernell took 200-meter honors (21.2).

MSAC's Steve Zak ran the 100 in 10.8 and teammate Willie Davis finished the 400 in 49.6.

Former Mountie John Gregorio, running unattached, ran the 1500 in 4:00.5 to beat MSAC's Gary Smith (4:01.9). Toyo's Kawata Kyoshi won the 5000 in 14:48.

Mounties dominated the hurdle events. Andre Hall won the 110-meter highs in 14.5 while Bruce Ashman (54.6), Craig Summers (54.8) and Dwayne Jackson (55.3) led the way in the 400-meter intermediates.

Marcus Gordien won the discuss with a throw of 186-11.

Cavs' Pierce blanks 'Cats

By TIM CLARK
PB Correspondent

Don Pierce of Montclair High is one heck of a pitcher.

The senior southpaw of the Cavaliers chalked up his third win of the season Tuesday afternoon at Montclair, blowing down Hacienda League favorite Bonita, 2-0.

With the exception of a shakey first inning, Pierce was in absolute control throughout the afternoon. In the initial frame, he allowed the only two Bearcat hits a lead-off single by sophomore Ralph Ortega and a bad-hop safety off the bat of All-CIFer Bill Bumstead. Ortega seemed to set the tone of Bonita's hopes when he got caught in a rundown after misinterpeting a base-running signal.

Pierce was sensational the final six innings of work, tossing only 11, 11, 16, 11, 10 and eight pitches in each frame, respectively. (Talk about a strong finish!) Including his 23 throws in the first, Don wound up with an excellent 90 pitches through seven innings.

"Yes, Don looked very good there today," said Montclair coach Tom McFadden. "He did save all his energy for the last couple of innings too. He enjoys it when he can come on a little bit stronger each inning."

"It have no doubt's that Don will prove himself to be the top pitcher in the valley before the year is over," continued McFadden. "We open SAL play next week (against Claremont), and we're ready to get 'em. Claremont and Upland are both very tough, but we are right in there too."

Pierce, now 3-1, lowered his ERA to a very impressive 0.54. With his 11 strikeouts Tuesday, the lefty has now racked up 41 K's in 24 innings of work this spring.

Pierce's performance somewhat overshadowed that of his mound opponent, Dave Drury of the Bearcats. The senior righthander went the distance for the visitors, allowing only one earned run.

Drury fanned 10 Cavaliers, allowed eight hits, and walked only one batter, but was the victim of some shoddy defensive play on the part of his teammates. Bonita was guilty of four errors; and has accumulated 19 in six contests, an average of over three a game.

"Bonita is a very good club, probably the best we've faced so far," commented the Caveliar skipper. "They've got quite a year ahead of them."

First-baseman Ed Salazar of Montclair delivered the big blow of the day, a booming triple to left in the second. Salazar skipped home on Bill Moore's RBI single.

The Cavs (4-2) will travel to Northview on Friday. Bonita (3-3) will open play for all the marbles Friday, when they open the Hacienda schedule at Alta Loma. Both games have a 3:15 start.

Claremont's Peacock shuts out Gladstone

By BRENT SHYER
PB Correspondent

Claremont High's Leonard Peacock had his array of pitches in full bloom Tuesday afternoon, as he led the Wolfpack to a 5-0 whitewashing over the Gladstone Gladiators.

The righthanded pitcher fired a two-hitter, drove in a run, and scored a run to lead the 'Pack to its third win in pre-league games, against two losses, at Claremont's baseball field.

Peacock, a junior, did not allow a hit until one out in the top of the fourth inning. Gladiators' centerfielder Mike Duran hit a big bouncer that went into center field for the first hit off Peacock.

In the seventh frame, Duran again got on base off Peacock with a little blooper that dropped in amongst a trio of Claremonters.

Other than those two hits, Peacock threw a blanket over the Gladstone attack. He fanned six batters and did not allow any walks.

"Basically, I try to mix up my pitches," said Peacock following his victory. "I try to keep them off stride. I throw both the fastball and a curve."

Claremont got on the scoreboard in the first inning when its first baseman Paul Sokolowski tagged the ball over Gladstone's right fielder Tom Tucker and raced around the bases for a round-tripper.

Gladstone used three pitchers in the final pre-league game, as a tune-up for the hurlers. Tim Crawford went the first two innings and allowed three runs. Chris Partida came on to pitch the third through fifth frames and gave up two runs.

The Gladiators' number one pitcher, Joe Bracamontes, finished up the game, giving up one Claremont hit, and no runs.

The 'Pack added two tallies in the second stanza. Catcher Scott Davis singled home Carl Cervantes who had reached base on an error. The ball was misplayed by the left fielder which allowed Davis to advance to second.

Pitcher Peacock then shot one through the left side of the infield for a base hit scoring Davis, which gave Claremont a 3-0 lead.

In the fourth inning, Claremont pushed its final two runs of the day across. A single by Cervantes, followed by his second steal of the game and an error, left him on third base. Peacock then walked and stole second. Dan Healey hit a drive to center that was bobbled and dropped by the fielder which enabled Cervantes to score.

Robbie Haerr's infield single scored Peacock for the last run.

"The big reason I won was because I didn't walk anybody," Peacock remarked. "I always stayed ahead of them."

For Peacock, it was his second win of the year. Claremont coach Steve Lambert said about his righthander, "He did a super job. His curve ball is very good and controlled."

The 'Pack will play its final preseason game on Friday against the Lancers at Charter Oak in a 3:15 p.m. contest.

Claremont opens up SAL play next Tuesday against Montclair, and although not wanting to pick a winner for the league, Lambert said, "The league is always tough!"

Three Panthers announce plans

Three players off of Chaffey College's 1975 defensive unit will continue their playing careers at the four-year level.

Defensive tackle David Hurd is headed for Oregon State, middle guard Marty Martinez will attend the University of Redlands and linebacker Honnie VanderKallen is set at La Verne College.

Hurd, a massive 6-foot-6, 250-pounder who prepped at Chaffey High, was a two-year starter for the Panthers. He was recruited by several schools before deciding on Oregon State. The Beavers are expected to use his services as either a defensive or offensive tackle.

Martinez, a graduate of Corona High, was also a two-year performer for the Panthers.

VanderKallen is another former Chaffey High performer. The 6-foot-1, 190-pounder won All-Mission Conference honorable mention recognition as a linebacker this past fall.

VanderKallen will be following in the footsteps of brothers Roy and Francis at La Verne. The Leos plan to use his services as either a linebacker or tight end.

Mounties, Owls begin title defenses

By JIM McCONNELL
PB Staff Writer

Citrus and Mt. San Antonio colleges will begin defense of their conference baseball crowns Thursday afternoon as league play begins in the Mission and South Coast conferences.

The Owls captured the Mission title last year with a 17-5 slate and compiled a 34-10 season mark, winding up runnerup in the State JC playoffs to Cerritos.

MSAC earned a co-South Coast Conference title with Cerritos with a 15-5 league mark. Overall, the Mounties finished at 28-9.

While Owl mentor Skip Claprood is optimistic going into the league season, the Mission Conference looks much stronger this year and Citrus will be hard-pressed to repeat as champs.

The Owls do have six returning starters from last year's championship squad, but their pitching is basically untested. Four freshmen righthanders, Roy Naas, Gene Marzo, Mike Yackee and Hank Ritchey, are expected to carry the bulk of the hurling load.

The six returning Owl starters have all hit well in pre-league games, as Claprood's team takes a 9-3 season mark into Thursday's opener at home vs. Palomar.

Catcher Worth Valentine, first baseman Dave Hostetler, shortstop Todd Ervin, third baseman Joe Sansom and outfielders Kim Eppard and Jim McCadden are expected to carry the bulk of the offense.

Marzo has been the most effective Owl pitcher in the early going, compiling a 4-0 mark and a earned run average under one. He is expected to start against Palomar, one of the weaker M.C. entries.

Claremont High products Ervin, designated hitter Tony Janusz and relief pitcher John Huddleston are expected to play major roles in the Owls' title defense, as is centerfielder Rich Ortega, a transfer from La Verne College. Ortega prepped at Bonita High.

MSAC mentor Art Mazmanian takes his Mounties to El Cajon Thursday afternoon to open South Coast Conference play at Grossmont. MSAC takes a 8-3-1 slate into the SCC opener.

Mazmanian rates the SCC as tough as ever, and knows his club will need to stay healthy and play to its potential to repeat as conference champs.

"I'm a realist," stated Mazmanian. "Our conference has two super teams this year in Cerritos and Fullerton and we are going to be hard-pressed to beat them out.

"I'm worried about our lack of depth and pitching, although Kevin Chapman (3-0) has been a very pleasant surprise. I do think we will need to pitch Roenicke in order to go anywhere in league, he's our only lefty and Cerritos and Santa Ana are loaded with left-handed hitters."

Bob Veselic (3-2) will get the start at Grossmont Thursday. The Griffins, rated as only one of the weaker SCC entries, will carry a 5-5 pre-league log into the game.

Mazmanian is expected to start a lineup of Val Primante at catcher, Danny Gans at first base, Brian Menasco at second, Larry Marsh at shortstop, Chris Barbone at third and an outfield of Tracy Cowger, Roenicke and Joe Koval. Forest Brown is expected to get the nod at the designated hitter slot.

Regular Mountie second baseman Matt Erickson remains out of the lineup with an arm injury suffered last week in practice. Mazmanian doesn't expect him back until next week at the soonest, and his absence has hurt both the MSAC offense and defense.

At last report, Cerritos stood at 12-0 in pre-league while Fullerton was 11-3. Other SCC teams to watch this year are a much-improved Santa Ana club and San Diego Mesa. Orange Coast and Grossmont are rated as the conference darkhorses.

Chaffey is regarded as one of the top threats to unseat Citrus in the Mission Conference. Coach Howard Lowder's Panthers will open conference play at Southwestern Thursday afternoon.

Chaffey has been bombing the ball on offense but the Panther pitching has been surprisingly shaky. Lowder's crew stands at 6-6 on the year going into Thursday's tilt. Several Panthers have been out with the flu, a contributing factor to Chaffey's slow start.

Former Chaffey High prepster Larry Jones has been the big offensive weapon so far for the Panthers, with a batting average right around the .500 mark and six home runs.

Pitching, expected to be a Chaffey strongpoint, has not looked impressive and the Panthers will have to get it straightened out to go anywhere in a Mission Conference race which should be hotly contested. In addition to Citrus and Chaffey, San Bernardino, Riverside and San Diego City College are all expected to be in the running for the conference title.

Epiphany cagers win

Epiphany School of South El Monte won the annual Mighty Mite Basketball Tournament for third and fourth graders sponsored by St. Madeleine's School of Pomona at Simons Junior High.

The South El Monte school defeated St. Benedict's of Montebello, 38-21, in the championship game. In the battle for third place, St. Anthony's of San Gabriel beat St. Martha's of La Puente, 25-7. St. Margaret's of Chino took consolation honors by downing St. George's of Ontario, 22-8.

St. George won the sportsmanship trophy.

Broncs edge Aztecs

Streaking Cal Poly recorded its seventh victory in eight games Tuesday afternoon as the Bronco baseballers downed visiting San Diego St. 2-1.

Bruce MacPherson scattered nine hits in subduing the Aztecs. SDS picked up an unearned run in the top of the first and MacPherson shut the door the rest of the way.

The senior righthander fanned six and walked four in out-dueling the Aztecs' Dave Smith. The win gives Cal Poly a 9-10 season mark.

The Broncos tied the game at 1-1 in the last of the third as, with two out, Clay Harris tripled and Ken Hellyer's infield single scored him.

The winning run came across the sixth, as three singles by Steve Thompson, Kevin McLain and Dennis Sherow produced it, Sherow's one-bagger driving home the run.

Harris, with a triple and a single, led the six-hit Bronco attack. Chick Valley had two doubles for San Diego St.

The Broncs will try to continue their winning ways this afternoon, as they face UC Irvine on the Kellogg Field diamond. That game was slated for a 2:30 p.m. start.

Poly tackles Puget Sound

The 6-6 forward from San Pedro is averaging 17.7 for the season after scoring his season high of 30 last week against Cal State Northridge. Gamulin is shooting at a 53.4 per cent clip from the floor and 72.8 per cent on the foul line.

Senior forward Paul Newton (6-4), a three-year letterman, is Poly's strength on the boards. He is averaging 10.9 rebounds and 12.4 points a game.

Little guard Tom Ispas (5-7), a sophomore from Indiana, is Poly's playmaker. His main statistic is 4.1 assists a game.

The center spot has been Hogan's main problem this season. He started center Malcolm Kennedy (6-5) three games ago and the four-year letterman from Pasadena has responded well.

"This is the top event of my career," Malcolm said before leaving for Tacoma. "This has been an enjoyable season for me. I'm really not a center but I now feel comfortable out there."

Poly's reserves include seniors David Kennedy, Aaron Hopwood and Bill Cantwell plus juniors Mark Bernhard and Mike Kluge and freshman Jack Costello.

Puget Sound's height figures to be a big problem for Poly.

Coach Don Zech's Loggers are led by 7-0 center Curt Peterson, who averages 21.5 points and 10 rebounds a game. He is also shooting a 58.6 per cent clip from the floor and 85.8 per cent from the foul line.

"Good players like Peterson are hard to contain," Hogan said. "I hope we can hold him to his season average and do a job on the other four starters."

If Poly can win the Regionals here, it will advance to the quarter-finals Monday night in Pomona against the champion from the North Central Regionals at North Dakota. Competing at North Dakota are Nebraska-Omaha, Wisconsin-Green Bay, Mankato State (Minn.) and host North Dakota.

The eventual goal is the national semifinals and finals at Evansville, Ind. next week.

"If we play our best game, we can win," Hogan said. "It's that simple."

Former Yankee and Detroit pitcher Frank (Bots) Nekola has been scouting 26 years for the Boston Red Sox.

Sports briefs

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Marcos Leite, a 6-foot-10 Pepperdine center from Brazil, was named Tuesday as the outstanding basketball player in the West Coast Athletic Association.

Leite was selected in a vote by the seven coaches in the league.

Pepperdine's Gary Colson was named Coach-of-the-year after leading his club to the title and Seattle's Clint Richardson was voted the freshman of the year.

Named to the All-Star squad for the league were Leite, guard Dennis Johnson and forward Ollie Matson Jr., all of Pepperdine, Richardson, Winford Boynes of the University of San Francisco, Pete Padgett of Nevada-Reno and Ralph Walker of St. Mary's.

KANSAS CITY (AP) — The University of Minnesota has been placed on probation for three years as a result of violations in the conduct of its intercollegiate basketball program, the National Collegiate Athletic Association announced Tuesday night.

Sanctions imposed by the NCAA Committee on Infractions prohibit the Minnesota basketball team from participating in any postseason competition during the first two years of the probationary period.

The university also will be held to three new basketball scholarships for the 1976-77 and 1977-78 academic years. Normally, six scholarships are permitted each academic year to NCAA Division I members.

YPSILANTI, Mich. (AP) — Ray Scott, former Detroit Pistons coach, was named today to coach the foundering basketball program at Eastern Michigan University.

Scott, who will receive a four-year contract, will replace Allan Freund, head coach at EMU for four seasons and an assitant for five, said EMU President James Bricklev.

HAMILTON, N.Y. (AP) — Colgate University is searching for a new basketball coach today after Bill Vesp resigned Tuesday.

Vesp, 38, coached Colgate basketball for four years, compiling a 48-51 record. This year's team finished with a 14-11 record and was ranked third nationally in team defense.

NASHVILLE, Tenn. — Wayne Dobbs, an assistant basketball coach at Vanderbilt University for the past six years, was named to succeed Roy Skinner, who resigned Monday, as head coach.

NEW YORK (AP) — Clarence Campbell, president of the National Hockey League, got unanimous consent of the board of governors Tuesday for an interim loan to help the latest financially distressed expansion club, the Kansas City Scouts, finish out the last month of the season.

The money, however, isn't being given without firm conditions. The Scouts were given the option of restructuring their organizational setup to allow new partners and fresh money. Otherwise, they may have to find new owners for the $6-million franchise or shift it to another city.

CHARLOTTE, N.C. (AP) — The world's longest stock car race, the World 600, is now the second richest.

The Charlotte Motor Speedway has announced it will offer $210,000 for the May 30 race, an increase of $34,000 from last year. The Daytona 500 paid $340,000 this year.

The winner of the 40-car World 600 will collect $25,000. With additional qualifying and lap money he could earn more than $35,000.

MOSCOW — Billie Jean King beat Olga Morozova 7-5 as the United States took a 52-40 lead in games over the Soviet Union after the second round of the U.S.-Russian team tennis tournament.

MEXICO CITY — Brian Gottfried of Ft. Lauderdale, Fla., defeated Harold Solomon of Silver Spring, Md., 7-6, 6-1, in the opening round of a $60,000 World Championship Tennis tournament.

MEMPHIS — Australian John Newcombe advanced to the second round of a World Championship Tennis tournament with a 5-7, 6-3, 6-3, triumph over countryman Allan Stone.

BOWIE, Md. — Bowie Race Course canceled its scheduled nine-race thoroughbred card becaus e of icy road conditions.

NEW YORK — Bold and Fancy, $9.60, closed with a rush to beat Jacques Who by a half-length and win the $25,000 Brave Lad Purse at Aqueduct Race Track.

ALBANY, Calif. — Clipper Gal, $8.20, crusied to a 2½-length victory over Cannot Tell in the feature race at Golden Gate Fields.

HALLANDALE, Fla. — Loop, $6.60, took an early lead and went on to post a two-length victory over Proud of You in the feature race at Gulfstream Park.

HOT SPRINGS, Ark. — Wickery, $8, captured the $12,500 feature race at Oaklawn Park by taking the lead on the final turn and outrunning Dare To Command by 12 lengths.

Mustangs, Jags win

Walnut and Ontario posted wins in prep baseball action Tuesday, but San Dimas suffered its second loss of the pre-league season.

The Mustangs downed Workman 3-0 behind the two-hit pitching of Bob Cordova, Marty Pallesen and Butch Long, while Ontario bested visiting Mt. View 6-1.

Northview pushed across a run in the top of the seventh to beat San Dimas 3-2.

Walnut hurler Cordova gave up singles in the first and second innings and that was the extent of the Workman attack as the Mustangs improved their pre-league mark to 3-2. Cordova, Lallesen and Long combined for seven strikeouts.

Ed Kimura and Bruce Byers led the Walnut attack with two hits apiece.

Northview took advantage of a throwing error by Saint hurler Jack Clark in the seventh inning to push across the winning run. A triple by Andy Hegel had tied the game in the sixth at 2-2. The loss dropped the Saints' record to 4-2.

Walnut, Ontario and San Dimas will all open Hacienda League play on Friday. Walnut will travel to Gladstone, Ontario to Sierra Vista and San Dimas to Royal Oak. All those games start at 3:15 p.m. Friday afternoon.

Darkness holds up Upland, Alta Loma

By MARK GRIP
PB Correspondent

Overcast skies that developed into darkness Tuesday evening forced Alta Loma and Upland Highs to delay the finishing of their nonleague basebal game until a later date.

Alta Loma scored four runs in the visiting half of the fourth inning to knot the game at 5-5.

The game was still tied after six complete innings when it was called by the umpires at 5:30 p.m.

Normally the game, played at Upland's memorial Park, would have continued with the assistance of the park's lighting system.

The infield lights, however, were removed to make room for $15,000 worth of new lights.

The game will be completed at a later date, to be decided.

Upland went into the contest boasting a 5-1 preseason record. The Highlanders recently won the Chaffey Tournament.

The Braves, down 5-1, tied the score in their fourth with four runs on four hits and two Highlanders errors.

Brian Henderson's bad hop single with runners on second and third brought in the first run.

Designated hitter Loren DellaMarna grounded into a force play at second with one run scoring.

With the bases loaded and two out, Anthony Vasquez singled for one run, and another came when centerfielder Jeff Sarrett bobbled the hit.

Upland started with two in the first and one in the second.

Two wild pitches in the first gave it two runs and a bases loaded walk to Greg Niederlander, the third run.

Upland got its final two when Grag Strahly doubled with two on in the third.

Brave starting pitcher, Charlie Balber, struck out eight Scots in four innings of work. He also walked seven and allowed five hits.

Scot coach Bob Garvin used most of his pitching staff, throwing five hurlers from the mound.

It's a Racquet

The local area's newest tournament premieres this weekend and 123 doubles teams are waiting in the wings. The San Gabriel Valley Chinese Cultural Association is putting on the event Saturday and Sunday and March 20-21 at the Mt. San Antonio College courts, though the big entry list has forced scheduling of some early matches at Cal Poly nearby. The 123 entries are spread over three classification levels — C,D and "Weekenders" — and men's, women's and mixed doubles draws for each class. A lot of high level players may feel accurately described as weekenders but in this instance the term designates a category for those with no tournament experience.

Top seeds in the C events include Lou De La Vega and Rick Pertula in the Men's, Lilian Schabarum and Karen Weisman in the women's and David Crosson and Helen Wang in the mixed. No. 1 D's are Charles Sismondo and Bill Cline in men's, Pat Fiddes and Jeannine Neuer in women's and Roy and Flora Tamiya in the mixed.

The association will use proceeds from the entry fees for its various community activities, including the operation of its Chinese school in West Covina. The San Jose Hills Racquet Club is co-sponsoring the tournament.

First matches this Saturday and Sunday are set for 8 a.m. The C and D action will continue to a second weekend, but the Weekenders will play through to their trophy winners the first two days.

ANOTHER LADDER LEADER in the Claremont city leagues lived up to its ranking last week. Penny Daoust and Isabel Alba captured the women's doubles play-off championship, defeating Mary Lane and Barbara Hertz, 6-1, 6-2. The champs headed the ladder standings last cycle, and now they've cemented their hold on first place for the current session with a perfect 98 points. Sandy Walker and Gerry Madorsky are second with 85.

Rick Escudero, meanwhile, saw his time of glory cut short abruptly. One week after winning the play-off title, he lost a ladder match to Aki Nishimura, and tumbled from first to sixth place in the standings. Nishimura's 6-3, 6-1 triumph gave him a first-place total of 87 points. Tom Deno and Bill Norin are tied for second with 82.

Mike Bechard and Mary Fry moved into the mixed doubles play-off finals with a 6-4, 6-3 win over Jim Jamieson and Bylle Whedbee. They'll meet Herb and Kate Hoskins for the championship Saturday. Meanwhile, Bob and Penny Daoust top the ladder with a perfect 98 total against the Bechard-Fry team's 88 and Jamieson-Whedbee's 84.

Jack Verheyden and Dave Griffin continue to rank first in men's doubles with 98 while the Herb Hoskins-Rick Pawley-Jerry Bradley entry follows with 93.

PREPARATION FOR THE UPCOMING DART RESORTS California Tennis Club Championships has become serious business at the Claremont Tennis Club. The club's entry in the team tournament which starts next month will consist of 18 players — nine men and nine women — and those aren't enough openings to go around to all the aspirants. So a series of challenge matches is under way to set the all-doubles line-up.

Jim Lucke and Charles Zetterberg pulled off one big coup last weekend, a 6-3, 6-2 win over Chuck Anderson and Stan Clark, regarded as the club's leading duo. That makes them the frontrunners in the quest for the three men's doubles team berths.

In women's doubles Doris Clark and Margaret Beck outlasted Doris Cromer and Donna Dickenson, 6-4, 3-6, 6-2, and Judy Ross and Lei Mathews took a three-setter from Margaret Overin and Karen Lucke, 5-7, 6-3, 6-2.

Anderson and Mrs. Clark emerged as the leading mixed doubles contenders with a 2-6, 6-2, 6-1 conquest of the Luckes. No one can play in more than one match in the Dart competition but some Claremont players are keeping their hands in two events to leave their options open.

LA VERNE COLLEGE has scheduled the first in a series of tennis clinics for March 27 — a day-long happening that will include instruction, lunch, competition and a social gathering. Mike Colvin, director of alumni relations, said all intermediate players are welcome to register by paying the $25 fee, which covers everything.

Instructors at the college courts will be LVC men's Coach Jim Paschal, faculty member Andria Fletcher and alumnus Dick Roberson. After lunch, the players will square off in round robin matches, then, at 4:30 p.m., will part friends with a social gathering and awards presentation in the President's Dining Room of Davenport Hall.

The clinic will begin with registration at 8:30 a.m. in the Supertent but Colvin said players can register on preceding days at the development office. A maximum of 36 will be accepted.

ROUND ROBIN TOURNAMENTS in both men's and women's doubles is programmed this weekend for Upland Racquet Club members . . . On the drawing board for the Claremont Tennis Club: a 19,000-square-foot building to house 10 racquet ball courts and locker rooms. Also, the club has sought a zoning concession from the city to allow eventual construction of six more tennis courts . . . The $100,000 Independent Players Association finals will bring Jimmy Connors and Ilie Nastase, among others, to La Costa next week. The two cut-ups appear to be playing at their best these days, and if that appraisal holds up, spectators at the Carlsbad spa will see the most proficient tennis the world can offer . . . After a couple of weeks on the Virginia Slims tour, 17-year-old Lea Antonoplis of Glendora returned to her home territory to win the Fullerton Junior Invitational last weekend. She defeated Stacey Margolin of Beverly Hills in the girls 18 finals, 6-3, 6-1.

Even Knicks beat Lakers

NEW YORK (AP) — Walt Frazier was home with a strained back. Spencer Haywood sat on the bench for awhile, then left for the dressing room at halftime because of a strained muscle in his rib cage. Earl Monroe scored a rather quiet 14 points.

So New York Coach Red Holzman put together a lineup that had to boost scorecard sales, and the Knicks went out and beat the Los Angeles Lakers 101-96 Tuesday night.

The Knicks won because their two-headed center, Neal Walk and John Gianelli, outplayed Lakers superstar Kareem Abdul-Jabbar. They won because Mel Davis, starting at forward in place of Haywood, moved some bodies around under the boards. And when Davis ran out of gas, Harthorne Wingo came on in the third period and scored 13 points in 15 minutes.

They won because a lineup of Monroe, Walk, Wingo, Jim Barnett and Phil Jackson outscored Los Angeles 16-4 over a span of more than six minutes in the fourth period, turning a 78-74 deficit into a commanding 90-82 lead.

They won because the passwords of the Knicks' championship years of not so long ago—teamwork, hitting the open man, team defense—were heard once again in Madison Square Garden.

"Every time I looked up we had a different hero," said Jim Barnett, the reserve backcourtman who got the Knicks going after they had squandered a 50-43 halftime lead in a sluggish third period.

"When you lose two guys of all-star caliber, you have to make up for it in other ways. For the guys who haven't been playing, this was a great opportunity and you knew we were going to hustle. I really wasn't aware of who was out on the floor, because for a change we had four or five guys make big contributions."

Barnett said his contibution was to "penetrate, move the ball, get the team running." Davis said his job was "going to the boards," and he came down with a team-high 10 rebounds.

Gianelli and Walk, the Knicks' center tandem, made the biggest contribution by neutralizing Abdul-Jabbar. Gianelli-Walk had 31 points, 14 rebounds, eight assists and one blocked shot; Abdul-Jabbar had 26 points, 16 rebounds, six assists, five blocked shots. A tossup, and for the Knicks that was a big plus.

"I was getting my shots from the outside," said Walk, who came off the bench to lead the Knicks with 18 points, "and tonight they were going in." Monroe added 14 points, Wingo and Gianelli 13 each, Bill Bradley 12 and Butch Beard 11.

Abdul-Jabbar was backed up by Lucius Allen's 22 points, Gail Goodrich's 18 and Corky Calhoun's 17.

Abdul-Jabbar, meanwhile, got just six points in the first half and said, "I felt I was getting a raw deal, that they were pushing me around and it wasn't being called."

As for going up against New York's one-two pivot punch, Abdul-Jabbar said, "It's hard when you have to play 40-45 minutes and the other team always has a fresh guy to send at you."

And that may have been the real reason the Knicks won. A bunch of guys, fresh from sitting on the bench most of the year, went out and showed their stuff.

"It's nice to be able to contribute," concluded Wingo. "The bench finally got to play, and I think we did pretty well."

Marshall is quiet

EAST LANSING, Mich. (AP) — Los Angeles Dodger pitcher Mike Marshall stood mute at his arraignment today on four misdemeanor charges stemming from his disputed use of the Michigan State University men's intramural building.

A pre-trial hearing on the charges was scheduled for June 15 at 10:30 a.m. by visiting East Lansing District Court Judge Earl McDonald.

Marshall's attorney, Tom Downs, promised McDonald his client would show up. Marshall remains free without bond.

Marshall was charged with trespassing in the intramural building, disrupting a scheduled university activity — a tennis game — and with two counts of malicious destruction of university property. Each charge carries a maximum penalty of 90 days in jail and a $100 fine.

Boxers in finals

Three boxers from the Pomona Athletic League will be in action Friday night as the finals of the Southern California Golden Gloves competition will be held at the Long Beach City College men's gym.

The trio are Rod Stevens, Jim VanZant and Bruce Henderson. Stevens will be in action in the 147-pound novice division, VanZant in the 156-pound novice division and Henderson in the 147-pound open division.

The championship bouts will begin at LBCC at 7:30 p.m. Friday night. Open Division winners will advance to the Golden Glove Nationals in Miami Beach, to be held March 25-27.

Tickets for Friday's competition are available through the Pomona Athletic League office. For further information, call (714) 629-2319.

The New York Yankees will hold their annual "helmet day" April 25 when they face the Kansas City Royals.

Harbor tries to keep title

FRESNO — Los Angeles Harbor (23-4) and Oroville's Butte College (25-1) are set to defend their respective large and small schools division basketball crowns starting Thursday as the California Community College Basketball Tourney opens at Fresno's Selland Arena.

This marks the first time in the tourney's history that both defending champions have returned to action, and the two JCs also bring in the top state ranking and the best records in their divisions.

Harbor finished atop the California Community College cage poll, with its 23-4 season mark and Southern California Conference title. Other state tourney entries finished thusly in the poll: Long Beach CC (3-5), fourth; Santa Ana (21-8), fifth; Barstow (25-6), eighth; Menlo (25-4) ninth; De Anza (22-9), tenth; San Joaquin Delta (19-7), 12th; Riverside CC (22-8), 14th; and Compton (20-9), 15th.

The other JC to be in action at Fresno, Cuesta (22-11), was not ranked in the state's top twenty. Mt. San Antonio College finished 13th in the poll.

Thursday's opening round at Selland Arena has Santa Ana meeting De Anza (the Golden Gate Conference winner) at 3 p.m., Contra Costa (the Camino Norte titlist) vs. Riverside CC (the Mission Conference champs) at 5 p.m., Harbor going against Compton (the Western State Conference winner) at 7 p.m. and S.J. Delta (top-dog from the Camino Norte Conferrence) meeting Riverside (the Mission Conference champs) at 9 p.m.

The Small Schools Division will open play on Friday with games at 3 p.m. and 5 p.m., followed by the Large Schools Division semifinals at 7 p.m. and 9 p.m.

Both finals will be held Saturday night, the Small Division going on at 7 and the Large Division at 9.

'Hens fall to Biola

Biola College came up with two runs in the eighth inning and two more in the ninth Tuesday afternoon to break open a close game and hand host Pomona-Pitzer a 9-4 loss.

The Sagehens were trailing by just a run, 5-4 in the top of the eighth, when Biola's Eric Bang's two-run double with two outs gave the visitors some breathing room.

Pomona-Pitzer's Jeff Eisenberg and Jim Busterud each went two for four, and Eisenberg picked up an RBI.

Dan MacMillan earned the win for Biola, and starter Tony Munoz absorbed the defeat.

The 'Hens, 3-6 on the season, will host SCIAC foe Whittier Saturday in a noon doubleheader.

Biola 9, Pomona-Pitzer 4

Biola	131	000	022—9 8 0
P-P	002	020	000—4 10 3

Biola — Schmidt, MacMillan (5) and Ludwig; P-P — Munoz, Creager (3) and Townsend. WP — MacMillan. LP — Munoz.
2B — Wild (B), Hernandez (B), Bangs (B) and Townsend (P).

Soccer clubs enjoy wins

Both Pomona Valley Pacific Soccer League teams won State Cup games last weekend.

The Division II Spittin' Image Claremont Kings defeated CUSAC of the West Valley League 3-1 while the Division IV Diamond Bar Kickers overwhelmed the West Valley League Branford Rangers 13-0.

The Kings led 2-0 at halftime behind goals by Pat Jones and Larry Ryan. Midway through the second half Ryan scored again. The CUSAC goal resulted from a penalty shot near the end of the game. Goalkeeper Steve Tipping and center fullback Doug Jollymour were outstanding on defense. Lance Folden was credited with two assists and Randy Taylor with one.

Paul Caliguiri with 6 goals and Mike Brocki with 3 led the Kickers' scoring. Single goals were recorded by James Ratajczak, Jeff Ratajczak, Mike Spurrier, and Brad Curtis.

The wins move both teams into the final eight Los Angeles County teams which now begin play against San Diego County teams for the Southern California championship.

The Kickers drew a bye for this coming Saturday but the Kings will play the Bolivians of the San Diego South Bay Soccer League at the Pomona College Football Field at 10:30 a.m. prior to the L.A. Aztec exhibition game against the Claremont United Soccer Club.

Ascot Park slates race

GARDENA — Four winners of American Motorcycle Association national TT events are among the early entrants for the revival of J. C. Agajanian's 100-lap TT at revitalized Ascot, Sunday, March 21.

Rick Hocking the surprise winner of the Houston TT at the Astrodome in the opener of the 1976 Camel Pro series, joins Dave Aldana, winner of Ascot's 1973 national, and the Northwest stars, Chuck Joyner and Sonny Burres in this 1976 marathon.

The '76 100-lapper will be staged for $3,500, the largest purse posted by Agajanian since he started the event in 1961. The riders will line up in 11 rows of three — Indianapolis 500 style — in the feature after qualifying and two semis. Twenty of the starting field will be chosen directly from qualifying laps.

Although the event is limited to experts, it's possible that juniors may be accepted to insure that as least 44 riders take part in the qualifying and elimination heats. Interested juniors may call Agajanian's office (213-321-5323).

While the 100-lapper was an Agajanian innovation, this 1976 affair will be his first as the master leaseholder. In earlier years, he was a subtenant. In 1973 and 1974, Agajanian revived the event, but it was dropped last season during his convalescence from cancer.

In his new start at the age of 62, Agajanian has replaced virtually half the wood in the Ascot grandstands, repaved the concourse above the seats, and filled in the chuckholes in the parking lot. New paint abounds everywhere.

United States and British golfers will play their 19th Curtis Cup team matches at the Royal Lytham and St. Annes Golf Club in St. Annes-on-Sea in Lancashire, England, June 11-12.

Giants unveil their coaches

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — The atmosphere reeked of enthusiasm and togetherness as the San Francisco Giants unveiled their new coaching staff. Then the subject of baseball's current owner-player impasse came up.

"I think Marvin Miller would like to run baseball," said Spec Richardson, named Tuesday to share the Giants' general manager duties with Jerry Donovan, longtime assistant to former team owner Horace Stoneham.

Richardson, former Houston general manager, made the same charge that several baseball executives have voiced about Miller, executive director and chief negotiator for the players' association.

"The association is solidly behind Marvin. He's only doing what the players want him to do," countered Jim Barr, the Giants player representative, who attended Tuesday's news conference at Candlestick Park. He said he thinks the association would settle, allowing spring training to open, if owners agreed to modify the reserve clause so it bound a major leaguer to his original team "only five or six years."

Barr, on a happier note, said he liked Manager Bill Rigney's coaching staff of former Giants third baseman Jim Davenport, Bobby Winkles, Frank Funk and Bob Rodgers.

Bob Lurie, co-owner of the Giants, showed his biggest smile when ticket manager Arthur Schulze reported, "We expect 40,0000 plus for opening day."

Of course, Lurie's smile and that anticipated big crowd for the April 9 game against Los Angeles will disappear if there's no basic contract settlement well before then.

Lurie announced that Wes Westrum, manager last year, will scout other big league clubs for the Giants and that Lon Simmons is coming back as play-by-play broadcaster to work with Al Michaels.

Another possible returning figure is Willie McCovey, now with the San Diego Padres. Lurie would like to get the 38-year-old slugger back in a Giants uniform for his final playing days, and Rigney said, "The Padres have given Willie permission to talk to us."

USC loses Paul Rice

DALLAS (AP) — A strongly sought schoolboy football star two years ago, Paul Rice, has left the University of Southern California and hopes to pick up his college gridiron career back home in Texas.

After Rice played infrequently as a freshman with the USC Trojans and Coach John McKay left there to take a pro job, the former Lewisville, Tex., running back departed Southern Cal because new Coach John Robinson wanted to redshirt him for the 1976 season.

His former coach at Lewisille High, David Visentine, said Monday, "I talked with Paul in the last part of January. He has a job in Dallas and is living in Dallas. He was supposed to enroll in Southern Methodist University this spring but he couln't get in in time.

Indy 500 has first gal driver

INDIANAPOLIS (AP) — The Indianapolis 500-mile auto race has its first woman entrant.

Sports car driver Janet Guthrie of New York, who holds an international competition license, entered the race Tuesday.

"I think it's high time a woman raced at Indy," Miss Guthrie said. "I have the background and experience to handle the drive."

She has competed on the Sports Car Club of America circuit since 1964. She will be the No. 2 driver for the Rolla Vollstedt team. Her teammate will be veteran Dick Simon, who has driven in the last six Indy races.

Arlene Hiss, has entered the Phoenix 150-mile race for Indianapolis-type cars this weekend and has been awarded a temporary license by the U.S. Auto Club for open cockpit racing.

At a news conference to introduce Miss Guthrie, Vollstedt said he would enter her in the Trenton, N.J., 200-mile championship event April 25 to familiarize her with USAC championship cars.

Because she has no experience at the Indy Speedway, Miss Guthrie must pass a rookie driver's test before seeking a spot in the starting lineup for the classic to be held May 30. The test consists of 20 laps, or 50 miles, at 160 miles an hour and 20 laps at any speed above 165 m.p.h.

Miss Guthrie has competed against former Indianapolis winners Mario Andretti and the late Mark Donohue in Daytona 24-hour and Sebring 12-hour races.

Raveling will stay at WSU

PULLMAN, Wash. (AP) — Washington State head basketball Coach George Raveling says he'll stay with the Cougars, despite an offer to coach at another major west Coast school for $60,000 a year.

Although he declined to name the school, Raveling said Monday he turned down the offer of twice his present salary because of pledges to remain at WSU.

"I promised Steve (Puidokas) I'd stay at Washington State until he graduates," said Raveling of his 6-foot-11½ junior center from Chicago. "And I also have a commitment to (WSU athletic director) Ray Nagel and Dr. (Glenn) Terrell."

Raveling, who completed his first winning season in four years at WSU with a 61-59 upset of 10th-ranked Washington Saturday night, said Monday it was a recruiting promise that weighted heavily on his decision to remain with the Cougars and the fact he is coaching in "the best basketball conference in the county."

The victory over the Huskies gave the Cougars an 18-8 record over-all and an 8-6 mark in the Pacific-8 Conference. It was WSU's best year since 1970, when it finished 19-7 and 9-5 in the Pac-8.

The Cougars were 10-16 a year ago and 1-13 in the conference.

Quotes

"All his disputes are doing is keeping his name in front of the public. I'm not too interested in seeing him further his own career at the expense of professional football." — San Diego Chargers quarterback Jesse Freitas, who hopes to oust Ed Garvey as executive director of the players union.

"Over-all, I was really pleased with the season. The two games at the Dayton (Ohio) tournament loom a lot larger now. We lost two there that we should have won. The rest of them (losses) could have gone either way."

Raveling said it was a disappointment that the Cougars were passed over for a bid to the National Invitation Tournament, the nation's oldest postseason basketball classic.

"It would have been a very meaningful reward for the kids. That was their goal, to go to a post-season tournament," he said. "They worked as hard as they could and it would have been a just reward for their accomplishments."

Raveling said following Saturday night's victory over Washington he would be "extremely disappointed" if Oregon was accepted to the NIT over the Cougars. WSU and Oregon split this season's two-game series and the Ducks finished with a worse over-all record (19-10) but still got a bid.

However Raveling said, "I'm sure they (NIT selection) did what they thought was right. I'd find it very difficult to pick 12 teams that would be the best representatives. This may give us the impetus to keep working hard and record a record that no one could deny next year."

Chinoan dominates motocross

IRWINDALE — Gary Denton of Chino and El Monte's David Taylor have dominated Irwindale Raceway's 125cc professional class riders in the CMC weekly Friday night motocross program.

The two have won seven of eight programs and over 90 percent of the 125cc events at Irwindale.

The Irwindale management has posted a $50 bounty to any rider who can defeat the two rockets. The victory will be determined in the overall points after the three five-lap motos.

Denton, 17, finished ninth in last year's CKC professional standings. He also holds the one-lap track record on Irwindale's half mile course. He is known as "The King of Irwindale."

Taylor, 18, was the 125cc Pro winner last year at Irwindale Raceway in the very successful CMC Night Nationals, and David, known as "Bones", also placed second in the high school 125cc Expert class in last year's Superbowl of Motocross. In 1976, Taylor is currently third in the chase for coveted CMC number one plate, which was won last year by Bill Rubly.

Fangio joins L.B. field

Auto racing

LONG BEACH — Juan Manuel Fangio, the only five-time champion in Grand Prix racing history, will join the star-studded field of driving aces from yesteryear in the Long Beach Historic Grand Prix, Saturday, March 27.

Fangio, 64-year old President of Mercedes-Benz, Argentina, won the premier driving title in 1951-54-55-56 and 1957. He will be behind the wheel of the Mercedes W196 in which he won the championship in 1954-55, the only years that Mercedes competed in postwar Grand Prix racing.

The Historic Grand Prix is a prelude to the United States Grand Prix West World Championship points race for current Formula One cars to be raced through the city streets of Long Beach the following day, Sunday March 28.

Fangio joins such world famous drivers as Stirling Moss, Maurice Trintignant, Peter DePaolo, Jack Brabham, Denis Hulme, Innes Ireland, John Surtees, Consalvo Sanesi, Carroll Shelby, and Rene Dreyfus, plus Dan Gurney and Phil Hill, who will take time out from their duties as Long Beach Grand Prix race-directors to compete with the cream of the auto racing luminaries.

"I'm delighted to participate in this event," said the former Argentinian ace. "It will be a thrill for me to see so many of the men that I have either raced against or admired in racing."

Fangio's car, shipped to the United States by Daimler-Benz AG of Stuttgart, Germany, will be pre-tested by the famous driver March 22-23 in private sessions at Ontario Motor Speedway. The machine has 8 cylinders with 2496 cc and 290 horsepower.

The Historic Grand Prix is scheduled for 3:15 p.m. Saturday with practice sessions slated for Friday, at 2:30 p.m. The United States Grand Prix West will get underway March 28 at 1:15 p.m.

Ronnie Peterson and Mario Andretti, teammates who took a collision course in the season's opening Formula One race in Brazil, have switched teams for the Grand Prix. Peterson will drive a March 761 and Andretti will be driving for Vels Parnelli Jones Racing, one of three U.S. based Formula One racing teams.

Peterson, who finished second to Jackie Stewart in the 1971 World Championship series in just his second year in Formula One racing, has been at odds with the John Player Lotus team, a situation that did not improve when he collided with Andretti on the sixth lap at Interlagos, Brazil. He now joins Vittorio Brambilla, Hans Stuck, and Arturo Merzario with the March team, making Lella Lombari's situation a question mark.

Andretti has been on loan to the Lotus team while Vel Miletich and Parnelli Jones prepared their machine for the Long Beach race. Andretti and Brett Lunger, driving for Team Surtees, are the only Americans currently racing on the World Championship circuit.

Englishman Bob Evans and Sweden's European F-3 champion, Gunnar Nilsson, replace Peterson and Andretti with Lotus. The latter will be making his Formula One debut in the second race in the 1976 series March 7 at Kyalami, South Africa, while Evans raced for the BRM team last year finishing ninth in Belgium.

In other developments Frenchman Michel Leclere, who made his F-1 debut for the Tyrrell Team at Watkins Glen last year, will be replacing Jacky Ickx behind the wheel of the Frank Williams FW-05.

Tickets for the U.S. Grand Prix West in Long Beach can be obtained at any Ticketron, Mutual, Wallicks Music City, or Liberty Agency or at the Long Beach Arena.

New track at Indian Dunes

VALENCIA — Indian Dunes Motorcycle Park and members of the Southern California Drivers assoc. (S.C.D.A.) have been hard at work all winter building a new race track for the fast modified Mini Dune Buggies and three wheel cycles.

Southern California Drivers Assoc. will hold their first races on this new track Sunday March 14th at twelve noon. In the Indian Dunes is located on Hwy. 126, 2 miles west of Interstate-5.

'Bracketnationals' to go at O.C.I.R.

EAST IRVINE — Orange County International Raceway's rained out "Lil Guy Bracketnationals" is set to go on its rescheduled date this Saturday.

The largest and richest of all events for "Lil Guy," semi-professional type drag racers, originally scheduled for Saturday and Sunday, February 7 and 8, features a gigantic $10,000 cash purse and will name an individual champion who shall be "1976 Mr. Lil Guy Eliminator."

The overall winner of this premiere "Lil Guy" event could conceivably walk away with $2,500 in cash plus hundreds of dollars in additional manufacturer contingency monies.

The four week delay has actually assisted this event promotionally, as yet more interest has been displayed by trade papers, automotive magazines and even local newspapers.

The postponement has also created a unique situation concerning the favorites' role at Saturday's event. Off last week's performance in OCIR's regular e.t. bracket program, a couple of new names have to be considered when discussing favorites for the "Lil Guy" crown. Oddly enough, the two new names are not Jim, Joe, Fred, Bob or Steve, but rather Ann and Gayle.

What's that, you say? Ann and Gayle? Drag race drivers? Well, it's true. Last Saturday night at OCIR, Ann Brown, a secretary for the Southern California Auto Club and housewife, slipped behind the wheel of her husband Roger's wild little Chevy powered Fiat and proceeded to completely embarrass a strong field of male bracket 2 drivers.

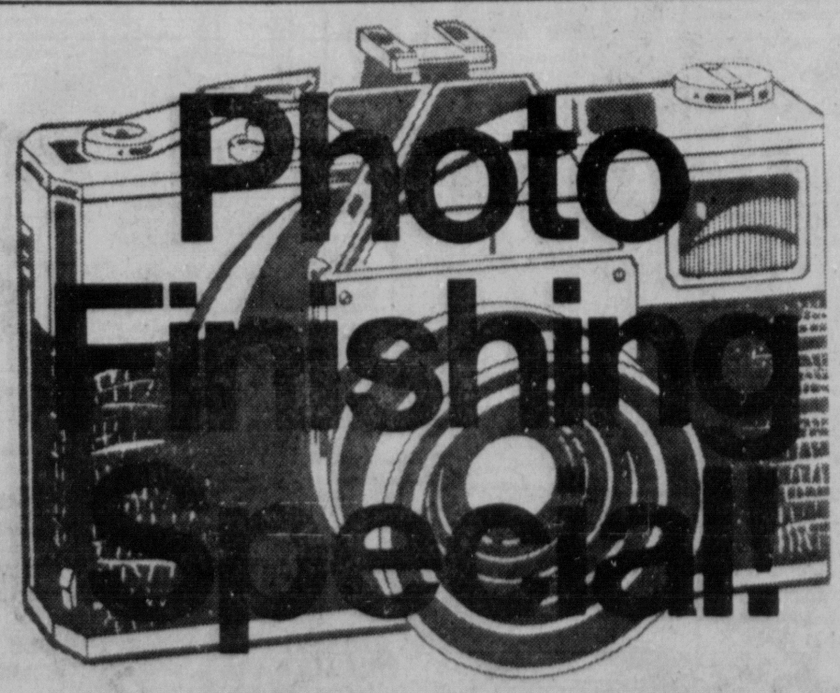
While Mrs. Brown was piloting the spectacular 1948 Fiat to consistant 9 second, 130 m.p.h. defeats of red-faced after red-faced male drivers, Gayle Sorensen was just about as convincing in bracket number 1 (fastest of all e.t. brackets). Mrs. Sorensen, who is a housewife and employee of a major piston manufacturer, drives a 150 m.p.h. Chevy powered dragster campaigned by her and husband Earl.

Gayle, although not quite as successful as Ann, did manage to defeat a strong contingent of male bracket 1 drivers before succumbing to eventual winner Dick Callagy in the semi-finals.

Mrs. Brown and Mrs. Sorensen will return on Saturday, March 13, along with odds on favorite Dick Callagy of San Diego and Tim Ekstrand of San Gabriel, plus 300 of the West Coast's top semi-professional drivers in quest of their share of the rich purse.

The marathon one day event will see the gates open on Saturday at 6:00 a.m., time trials from 7:00 a.m. to 6:00 p.m., tech inspection and time trial lanes close at 5:00 p.m., eliminations begin at 7:00 p.m.

Admission is $3.50 for adults (includes pit pass), $1.00 for children 6-12, children under 6 will be admitted free.



Starts Thursday, March 11. Sale prices effective through Sunday, March 14.

Sandy Hawley wins races with kindness

ARCADIA, Calif. (AP) — The nation's leading jockey says you win more races with kindness than you do with the whip.

Sandy Hawley, the Canadian who has been among the national leaders for the last five years, says he's unlike most jockeys who feel that roughness and a stern whipping make horses win.

"I try to get a horse to settle down as much as I can," said the 5-foot-2 rider. "I feel if I can get a horse to settle down and relax he'll run a better race. I treat them kind and I think it does work more often that roughness.

"Some riders do like to shake their horses up before putting them in the starting gate—to make them more alert and break sharper. But on the other hand, I feel if I have a horse relaxed he won't think about me hurting him and he'll concentrate on running."

Hawley, who already has ridden 78 winners in 1976, is far and away the leading jockey over such former national champions as Bill Shoemaker and Laffit Pincay Jr., both riding here at Santa Anita, and others like Ron Turcotte, who recently rode six winners in one day at Aqueduct in New York.

Hawley says he tries to communicate with his horses. "I talk to them and pat them on the neck in the post parade. If he's paying attention to me, then I feel he has confidence in me and I'll have more confidence in him."

But the slight 110-pound rider isn't shy about using the whip when it's necessary. It's just that he'd rather not resort to that tactic.

"You have to try to outsmart a horse," he said. "If a horse wanted to he could run off with anybody—Charles Atlas if he wanted to. But riders who fight their horses all the way around the track have no chance of holding them. You've got to communicate with them, let them know who's boss."

"And you also want to find out if your horse is sore. There have been times when I've had to take a horse to the gate to scratch him because he warmed up sore and the trainer didn't know about it."

Hawley was asked if he had any particular favorite type of horse—a front-runner or one who lays back and has a fast finishing kick.

"I don't mind if a horse stays off the pace, as long as I know I have a lot of horse under me. I don't like a horse that stays too far off the pace, though. Sometime you have too much ground to make up.

"But really, the best kind of horse is the kind that likes to run and works hard at it. Like Ancient Title. He's the kind of horse that tries really hard. He gives you his best. Those are the kind that riders like. You are working hard up there, and you want to know the horse is working hard with you.

"It kind of aggravates you if the horse isn't trying as hard as you are."

Hawley, who rode 515 winners for a national record in 1974, credits his agent, Colin Wick, for much of his success.

"I owe a lot to Colin. He gets me on the right horses at the right time. He's a very good handicapper."

Wick arranged for Hawley to ride Ancient Title last Sunday in the $250,000 Santa Anita Handicap, even though the horse was off at 9-1. But Hawley ran a near-perfect race and finished second, just a nose behind Royal Glint.

Hawley, a native of Oshawa, Canada, was a wrestler in high school until he began working for horse owner Duke Campbell in Toronto. Campbell first saw the talent in the young Hawley and decided to test him one day.

"He put me on this horse, a fairly tough horse who could be held but he was tough for me. Well, he was supposed to go once around the race track, but when we got around the first time, I was pulling back on the reins with all my might and he wouldn't stop.

"Campbell shouted at me, 'I thought you used to be a wrestler,' and I yelled back, 'I was,' but then the horse ran around the track two more times.

"When the pony boy finally got to me, I was so tired I almost fell off. That was the day I learned you had to give and take with a horse to control him."

Hawley never finished high school because of his love for horses, and his first race—at age 18—was in 1968 at Woodbine in Toronto on a horse named Regal Victory. "We finished fifth," he recalled.

"My first victory was that year at Woodbine, on a horse named 'Fly Alone.'"

Hawley is a wiry, muscular athlete who did quite a bit of weightlifting early in his career. "But I don't do much now. The riding you do in a afternoon keeps you as fit as you need to be."

He's never had any trouble with his weight. "I eat all kinds of desserts and don't gain weight."

This is National Nutrition Week: Don't forget the four food groups

National Nutrition Week, this week, serves as a reminder to Americans of the importance of nutrition to good health.

Good nutrition is based on the USDA Four Food Group system of milk, meat, vegetables and fruits and breads and cereals.

Daily minimum requirements in the milk group are three glasses for children, four glasses for teenagers and two glasses for adults. Cheese and ice cream can be substituted for part of the milk.

Milk is our main source of calcium for bones, teeth, muscles, nerves and blood.

At least two daily servings are recommended from the meat group which includes meats, fish, poultry, eggs and cheese. Dried beans, peas and nuts, including peanut butter, can be used as alternates.

Foods in the meat group are important for protein, iron, niacin and other B vitamins.

Four or more selections should be made daily from the vegetables and fruits group. Dark green leafy or deep yellow vegetables should be eaten three or four times a week for vitamin A.

Citrus fruits or tomatoes, or citrus or tomato juice, are a high source of vitamin C and should be eaten daily.

Four servings should be selected daily from the breads and cereals group. Breads and cereals should be whole grain or enriched.

Foods from this group provide significant amounts of the B vitamins as well as protein and iron.

Nutrition briefs

Chinese vegetables

The varied vegetables used in Chinese cookery are an important source of vitamin A, according to the California Dietetic Association, San Gabriel Valley District.

Particularly good sources of the vitamin are found in mustard cabbage, bean sprouts, Chinese cucumbers and various greens.

Rice, a staple in the Chinese diet, should be enriched or brown for better nutritive value. The addition of meat, fish, chicken or eggs to rice dishes adds protein to the diet.

Rice is part of the brads and cereals group of the USDA Four Food Group system. The California Dietetic Association recommends daily selections from each of the Four Food Groups (milk, meat, vegetables and fruits and breads and cereals) to maintain a balanced diet.

Italian fish, meat

The widespread use of fish and meats in Italian cooking provides a high source of protein.

Their nutritive value is enhanced with the addition of tomatoes, good sources of vitamins A and C, and cheese, an important source of calcium, protein and riboflavin.

Protein, vitamin C

Shrimp grumbo, a dish that originated in the Southern United States, is a good source of protein and vitamin C.

Main ingreidents in gumbo are shrimp, cooked rice, tomatoes, onion and okra. Shrimp is a high protein food. Tomatoes and okra are rich in vitamin C.

Gumbo contains foods from three of the Four Food Groups (milk, meat, vegetables and fruits and breads and cereals).

Puerto Rican diet

The chick pea, or garbanzo bean, so popular in the Puerto Rican diet, is a good source of protein.

The protein in chick peas is almost as high as that in soybeans. Black beans, a staple on Puerto Rican menus, also are a good source of protein.

Black beans are part of the meat group of the USDA Four Food Group System (milk, meat, vegetables and fruits and breads and cereals).

High in vitamin A

The traditional Polish menu makes good use of vegetables high in vitamin A.

Americans of Polish descent often eat broccoli, kale, sorrel, spinach and carrots, all good sources of the vitamin.

At least four servings of vegetables or fruits are needed daily for a blanced diet.

Protein source—fish

The excellent variety of salt water and fresh water fish consumed in the traditional Japanese diet are good sources of protein.

Fish supplies complete proteins that contain all the essential amino acids that the body needs for growth and repair of tissues.

Fish is included in the meat group of the USDA Four Food Group system (milk, meat, vegetables and fruits and breads and cereals).

A source of calcium

Cottage cheese as in the traditional Jewish blintz is a good source of calcium.

Calcium is necessary to maintain bones, to help nerves and muscles react normally and for blood to clot properly.

Cottage cheese is part of the milk group of the Four Food Groups (milk, meat, vegetables and fruits and breads and cereals).

Food grades standardized?

There's a movement underway in Washington to develop uniform and meaningful food grades. Of course, food grading is not new. The United States Department of Agriculture has been grading food since 1918, primarily so that wholesale purchasers can distinguish products as to freshness, size and quality. But the grading system is different for each commodity and often not understood by the consumer.

The grading of meat (prime, choice, good, etc.) is one of the few grading systems now in use that communicates buying information to the consumer, points out the National Live Stock and Meat Board. There are also grades for cheese, eggs, butter and fresh and processed fruits and vegetables, but most shoppers are unaware of what they mean or that they even exist. Adding to the confusion is the lack of consistency of these grades. While the top grade for one commodity may be "A", it may be "AA" for another.

A uniform grading system poses many questions. What should the grades reflect? Should grading be mandatory? Will a grading system really be effective in helping consumers be better shoppers?

Turkey ham a more economical way to serve ham

With the price of ham now outpacing beef, butget-conscious homemakers will be interested in a new product. It's turkey ham . . . and it's catching on wherever it is introduced — simply because it looks like ham and tastes like ham, but costs about a dollar a pound less! Turkey ham consists of dark turkey meat compressed to give it the exact texture of conventional ham and then naturally hickory smoked and pre-cooked. There is no waste whatsoever — no ham bone, low fat content, no skin or rind.

And you can use it in all recipes like regular ham. Bake it whole. Serve it at breakfast for eggs benedict. Makes terrific sandwiches and salads. It's delicious in casseroles, too.

Turkey is lower in cholesterol than all proplar meats. Its fat is the "soft type" (unsaturated), the kind that reportedly does not add to high blood cholesterol. Dr. M. L. Scott, of Cornell University, who directed studies on the comparative protein, fat and vitamin content of turkeys and other meats, states, "Our present high standard of living goes hand in hand with increased per capita consumption of lean, high quality animal proteins — and turkey heads the list of lean meats in high protein and low-fat content."

The meat of turkey ranks higher in protein than any other cooked meat. Turkey is a "complete" protein food. That means it supplies a significant amount of the eight amino acids considered to be essential to human life and growth.

Turkey is one of the lowest of all meats in calories. There are only about 150 calories in a 4 ounce serving. Each 100 calories of turkey meat supplies about 20 grams of protein, while each 100 calories of lean pork supplies about 12 gams of protein.

Turkey ham is available in the supermarkets year round. It's a great new way to save money, to eat more nutritionally, and yet still enjoy the taste and texture of smoked ham.

TURKEY HAM with MANDARIN-RAISIN SAUCE

- 1 turkey ham
- ½ cup firmly packed brown sugar
- 2 tablespoons cornstarch
- 2 teaspoon instant chicken bouillon
- 2 cups water
- ½ cup golden raisins
- 2 teaspoon grated lemon peel
- ¼ cup lemon juice
- ¼ cup mandarin-orange segments, drained

Bake turkey ham according to label directions. Meanwhile mix brown sugar, cornstarch and instant chicken bouillon in a 1-cup measure. Heat water, raisins, lemon peel and juice to boiling in a medium-size saucepan; remove from heat. Stir in sugar mixture slowly; cook, stirring all the time, until mixture thickens and boils 3 minutes. Stir in orange segments. Serve hot over sliced turkey ham. Makes 3 cups. 4 oz. turkey ham per serving.

TURKEY HAM SLICES with CHEESE-EGG SCRAMBLE

- 1 Turkey Ham
- 4 tablespoons (½ stick) butter or margarine
- 8 eggs
- 2 tablespoons dry pepper flakes
- 1 10½ ounce can condensed cheese soup

Cut one slice turkey ham per person. Saute in small amount of butter or margarine. Place on heated platter; keep warm. Melt butter in large skillet. Beat eggs thoroughly, add pepper flakes and soup. Mix well. Pour egg mixture into melted butter. Cook, stir very slowly, until starting to set around edge. Continue cooking, lifting eggs gently in puffs and tilting pan to let uncooked part flow to the bottom, just until set. Take from heat while still shiny-moist. Place on heated platter with turkey ham slices, accompanied with potato pieces. Serves 4 to 6.

Versatile dry beans pack protein

Protein is essential to good health. It's vital to body repair and growth. A good place to look for protein is dry beans.

According to the U.S. Department of Agriculture (USDA) dry beans have been in heavy supply. While the total crop production of dry beans is down 15 percent from last year, the large increase in colored beans will keep dry beans in the "plentiful" category.

Marketing specialists with USDA's Agricultural Marketing Service (AMS) say the harvest of pinto, red, and kidney beans is 10 to 50 percent above last year's.

Reasons to keep beans of all types in the cupboard are many. They're ready to serve in emergency meal planning. They offer one of the highest protein-powered vegetables around, and when combined with a small amount of animal protein, they provide perfectly ballanced protein.

Dry beans require only a small amount of storage space. Store them in a dry, cool place and in a tightly covered container and they will have a long shelf life. They're versatile, filling enough for big appetites, and tasty enough for any meal.

Here are two characteristically hearty bean recipes, a quick and easy main dish and a classic salad.

MEAT & KIDNEY BEANS

- 1 tablespoon fat
- 2½ cups cut-up, canned chopped meat or canned luncheon meat
- 2 cups cooked or canned tomatoes
- 2½ cups cooked kidney beans

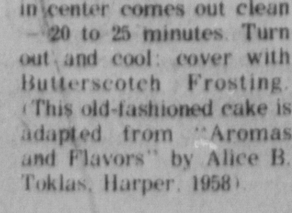
Melt fat in fry pan. Add meat and brown. Add tomatoes and kidney beans. Heat slowly; serve piping hot. Makes 6 servings.

THREE BEAN SALAD

- ½ green pepper
- 2 cups cooked or canned green beans
- 2 cups cooked or canned wax (yellow) beans
- 2 cups cooked kidney beans
- ¼ cup sugar
- 2/3 cup vinegar
- 1/3 cup vegetable oil
- 1 teaspoon salt
- 1 teaspoon pepper (or less if desired)

Chop green pepper. Drain beans. Mix sugar, vinegar, vegetable oil, salt, and pepper in a large bowl. Add vegetables and mix well.

Cover and chill 6 hours or longer. Before serving, again mix well. Makes 6 servings.



LUNCHBOX FARE
Ham and Cheese Sandwiches
Brownstone Front
Beverage

BROWNSTONE FRONT

- ½ cup cocoa
- ¼ cup firmly packed light brown sugar
- ½ cup milk
- ¼ cup butter or margarine
- 1½ teaspoons vanilla
- 1 large egg
- 1 cup sifted flour
- ½ teaspoon baking soda
- ⅛ teaspoon salt

In the top of a double boiler over boiling water, stirring constantly, cook together until smooth the cocoa, ¼ cup of the sugar and ¼ cup of the milk. Cream the butter with remaining sugar and the vanilla; beat in the egg, then the cocoa mixture. Sift together the flour, baking soda and salt; stir in, alternately with remaining milk, just until smooth. Bake in a buttered 11 by 7 by 1½-inch baking pan in a preheated 350-degree oven until a cake tester inserted in center comes out clean — 20 to 25 minutes. Turn out and cool; cover with Butterscotch Frosting. (This old-fashioned cake is adapted from "Aromas and Flavors" by Alice B. Toklas, Harper, 1958)

Pickle artichokes in wine vinegar or oil

Don't walk away from those little artichokes piled high in the produce counter, for they too have a "place in the sun." Large ones may make a spectacular appearance on on the individual salad plate at the dinner table, but the little ones are very tasty and appetizing, especially when they are pickled in wine vinegar or in oil.

Dr. George K. York, food science and technology specialist, Cooperative Extension, Division of Agricultural Sciences, University of California, Davis, shares his tested recipes and says, "Anyone who has a suitable pot can 'put up' some jars of pickled artichokes because they are processed by the boiling water method. A pressure canner is not needed."

PICKLED ARTICHOES IN OIL
(Makes 4 pints)

48 to 52 small artichokes,about 3-inch diameter or 72 or 78 artichoke hearts
2½ teaspoons citric acid or (1 cup lemon juice) in 2 quarts water
Vinegar
1 cup olive oil and 3 cups salad oil or 4 cups olive oil

PER PINT:
1 clove garlic
2 bay leaves
¼ teaspoon sweet basil
¼ teaspoon oregano

Use only perfect canning jars without cracks or nicks and new lids. Check lids to make sure that they fit perfectly. Wash jars in hot, soapy water and rinse well just before using.

Use small artichokes or artichoke hearts. Pull off outer leaves. Cut off top of bud and trim stem. Wash thoroughly.

Add artichokes to citris acid or lemon juice solution. Bring to a boil and simmer small hearts for 3 minutes; mature hearts for 5 minutes; and small, whole artichokes for 10 minutes.

Drain artichokes and place in pint jars. Fill jars with vinegar and let stand overnight (10 to 14 hours). Drain and fill with fresh vinegar. Allow to stand for an additional 4 hours.

Drain. Add spices to each jar and fill with oil to within ¼ inch of the top. Seal with lids and bands that have just been scalded in boiling water. Process in boiling water both for 30 minutes.

To Process: Place jars on a rack in a deep kettle. Pour boiling water to cover tops. Cover and gently boil 30 minutes. Jars should be completely covered with water throughout processing time. Add boiling water if needed. When processing is done, remove jars and let cool. Remember hot jars may break if set on a cold surface or placed in a draft.

To Test Seal: The next day, check to see if jars are tightly sealed. Press center of lids. If lid stays down the jar is properly sealed.

To Store: Label jars and store in a cool, dry place

PICKLED ARTICHOKES IN WINE VINEGAR
(Makes 4 pints)

Followed first three steps in "Pickled Artichokes in Oil." Then drain artichokes, place in pint jars, fill with vinegar, and let stand overnight (10 to 14 hours). Drain, add spices and fill with wine vinegar to within ¼ inch of top. Seal and process in boiling water bath as directed above.

Chops don't need to be just pork

The origin of recipes like Peanut Chops demonstrates America's ability to deal good humoredly with food shortages.

Peanut Chops are slices of bread, cut into pork chop shapes coated with a peanut butter mixture, and fried. After cooking, they're a ringer for breaded pork chops! Cookbooks published during the meat shortages of World Wars I and II recommended them as a delicious, protein-rich meat substitute.

Homemakers today turn to this recipe to help cope with the high cost of food. The ingredients are economical as can be, and nutritious too. The key ingredient, peanut butter, is 26 per cent protein and is also a good source of phosphorus, niacin and other B vitamins.

To prepare Peanut Chops, cut slices of rye bread into pork chop shapes with kitchen shears. Dip them into a mixture of peanut butter and milk, and roll in cornflake crumbs. No egg is required. The chops are fried 'til golden brown in a mixture of peanut oil and butter or margarine. They're particularly delicious served with warm maple syrup.

Save bread trimmings and use for making bread crumbs. Or, if you're in a hurry, skip cutting the bread into pork chop shapes. Prepare with whole slices of bread — it's just as delicious but not quite as much fun.

PEANUT CHOPS

12 large slices rye bread
2/3 cup peanut butter
1-1/3 cups milk
2 cups cornflake crumbs
¼ cup butter or margarine
¼ cup peanut oil
Maple syrup

With scissors or a sharp knife, trim rye bread slices until you have a piece of bread shaped like a pork chop. Place peanut butter into a bowl. Gradually stir milk into peanut butter until mixture is smooth and the consistency of thick cream. Dip slices of bread into peanut butter mixture allowing excess to run off and then cover with crumbs. Press crumbs firmly to make them adhere. In a large skillet, heat butter and oil. Fry chops slowly until richly browned and crusty. Serve warm splashed with heated maple syrup.

Yield: 6 servings

Protein aids not necessary

Have some of the current advertisements made you question whether your family might need a protein supplement? The daily diet of most Americans provides adequate protein. Well-balanced meals, including two 3½-ounce servings of meat, fulfill the Recommended Daily Dietary Allowances for protein, points out the National Live Stock and Meat Board.

The Federal Trade Commission believes that protein supplements are unnecessary for most Americans and that the advertising of such supplements is often deceptive and should be regulated. The commission is proposing a rule that would ban or limit claims implying that protein supplements may be used by everyone, including children, and that protein will help delay aging, give quick energy and aid in weight loss.

Market prices decline in February, but...

By LOUISE COOK
Associated Press Writer

Supermarket shoppers got a break on prices during February, but the declines failed to offset months and months of steady increases over the last three years, an Associated Press market-basket survey shows.

The AP drew up a random list of 15 commonly purchased food and non-food items, checked the price at one supermarket in each of 13 cities on March 1, 1973 and has rechecked on or about the start of each succeeding month.

Among the highlights of the latest survey:

—The marketbasket bill at the checklist store declined during February in 12 cities, down an average of 2.7 per cent. The only increase — 2.2 per cent — was at the checklist store in Seattle. During January, the marketbasket bill declined at the checklist store in 10 cities.

—The marketbasket totals have declined from levels of a year ago, but prices remain considerably higher than they were at the start of the survey.

Comparing marketbasket totals at the start of March 1976 with those three years earlier the AP found the bill was up at the checklist store in every city, with an average increase of 29 per cent.

The increases hit hardest during 1973 and 1974, then eased last year as sugar prices declined. The AP found the marketbasket total at the checklist store decreased during the last 12 months in 11 cities.

—Much of the savings in the early part of this year has been due to declining dairy prices. Butter and egg costs rose steadily during late 1975, but the trend was reversed in January.

The price of a pound of butter decreased at the checklist store in nine cities during January and in eight cities during February. Medium eggs declined at the checklist store in 10 cities during January and 11 in February.

Trying to figure out what will happen in the year ahead is difficult even for the experts.

The U.S. Department of Agriculture which reported that food prices rose 8.5 per cent in 1975 and 14.5 per cent in each of the preceding two years, says last year's large grain harvests should keep increases to about 1 per cent in each of the first two quarters this year.

Food price inflation in the second part of the year depends in part on the size of crops, particularly corn used to feed livestock.

The February increases and decreases in the AP survey to some degree reflected trends in prices paid to farmers for their products, but it often takes several months for a change at the farm level to show up at retail stores.

The USDA said recently that on the average, prices paid to farmers rose half of one per cent from mid-January to mid-February. Among the items for which farmers got paid more were wheat, cattle, calves and hogs. The prices paid for milk, eggs and some vegetables declined.

Nonfarm costs also are a key to predicting food price increases, however. During January, for example, the USDA reports that middlemen who process, handle and sell farm products got 56½ cents of every dollar consumers spent for food.

A look at the over-all number of items in the AP survey showed about the same percentage of decreases during January and February. Here are the percentages of increases and decreases:

	Jan.	Feb.
Up	17.9	20.0
Down	26.2	26.7
Unchanged	52.8	50.3
Unavail.	3.1	3.0

No attempt was made to weigh the AP survey results according to population density or in terms of what per cent of a family's actual grocery outlay each item represents.

The day of the week on which the check was made varied depending on the month. Standard brands and sizes were used when available. If the requested size and brand was not available on March 1, 1973, a comparable substitute was selected. Items temporarily out of stock on one of the survey dates being compared were not included in the over-all total.

The AP did not attempt to compare actual prices from city to city — to say, for example, that cookies cost more in one area than another. The only comparisons were made in terms of percentages of increase or decrease — saying a particular item went up 10 per cent in one city and 6 per cent in another.

The Department of Agriculture marketbasket issued each month is based on a complex set of statistics. It includes 65 retail items of U.S. farm-produced foods in amounts that theoretically could supply a household of 3.2 persons for one year. The department, which draws on information from 1,500 supermarkets in compiling its report, says the figures do not correspond to actual family food spending and are used mainly to illustrate changes in costs.

The items on the AP checklist were chopped chuck, center cut pork chops, frozen orange juice concentrate, coffee, paper towels, butter, Grade-A medium white eggs, creamy peanut butter, laundry detergent, fabric softener, tomato sauce, chocolate chip cookies, milk, all-beef frankfurters and granulated sugar.

MARKETBASKET COMPARISON

AP wirephoto chart

A COMPARISON — Another round of declines in the price of butter and eggs helped consumers during February. This chart compares the prices of butter, eggs and paper towels in 13 cities at the start of February and March of this year.

Market prices...

The cities checked were Albuquerque, N.M., Atlanta, Ga., Boston, Chicago, Dallas, Detroit, Los Angeles, Miami, New York, Philadelphia, Providence, Salt Lake City and Seattle.

Here is a city-by-city breakdown of what happened during February.

ALBUQUERQUE: The 15-item total went from $15.03 to $14.27, down 5.1 per cent. Paper towels were the only item that increased, butter, pork chops and eggs went down, other items were unchanged. Much of the savings was due to a special on pork chops on the check date. The price of a pound of center cut pork chops was $1.79, compared to $2.39 on the last check date. A store spokesman said the regular price at the end of February was $2.29 a pound.

ATLANTA: The 15-item total went from $14.42 to $13.72, down 4.9 per cent. Paper towels and tomato sauce increased, chopped chuck, pork chops, coffee, eggs, detergent and frankfurters declined. Everything else stayed the same.

BOSTON: The total for 13 available items went from $14.22 to $13.54, down 4.8 per cent. Pork chops and coffee increased, chopped chuck, paper towels, butter, eggs, milk, hot dogs and sugar decreased, fabric softener and tomato sauce were unavailable and the other four items were unchanged.

CHICAGO: The total for 14 available items went from $13.22 to $13.07, down 1.1 per cent. Hot dogs went up; butter and eggs went down; coffee was not available at the checklist store in the required size and other items were unchanged.

DALLAS: The 15-item total went from $13.56 to $13.31, down 1.8 per cent. Chopped chuck, pork chops, cookies and milk went up, but the increases were offset by declines in the price of butter and eggs. Other items stayed the same.

DETROIT: The total for 14 available items went from $13.22 to $13.07, down 1.1 per cent. Hot dogs went up; butter and eggs went down; coffee was not available at the checklist store in the required size and other items were unchanged.

LOS ANGELES: The 15-item total went from $12.33 to $12.19, down 1.1 per cent. Chopped chuck, orange juice, paper towels, butter, tomato sauce and cookies went up; pork chops, eggs, detergent, milk, frankfurters and sugar went down, the other three items were unchanged.

MIAMI: The 15-item total went from $14.36 to $13.98, down 2.6 per cent. Detergent increased, while chopped chuck, eggs and hot dogs decreased. The other items were unchanged.

NEW YORK: The total for 14 available items went from $16.32 to $16.21, down a little less than 1 per cent. Paper towels and milk went up; butter and eggs went down; fabric softener was unavailable and other items were unchanged.

PHILADELPHIA: The 15-item total went from $14.80 to $14.46, down 2.3 per cent. Orange juice, tomato sauce, cookies, milk and frankfurters went up in price; chopped chuck, pork chops, eggs and detergent declined; other items were unchanged.

ENGLISH CHICKEN AND HAM PIE

In a small saucepan, sprinkle 1 envelope unflavored gelatin over ½ cup water. Bring to boil; stir constantly until gelatin is dissolved. Stir in 2 packets Golden Seasoning and Broth, add 2 tablespoons lemon juice, 1 teaspoon Worcestershire sauce and 1 cup water. Chill in refrigerator until slightly jelled. Combine ¼ teaspoon thyme, ½ teaspoon grated lemon rind, ¼ teaspoon pepper, ½ cup diced onion, 1 tablespoon chopped parsley, 2 cups diced chicken or turkey (leftover), 2 cups diced boiled ham (leftover), and 1 more packet Golden Seasoning and Broth. Preheat oven at 400 degrees. Follow package directions for making pie crust (1 package 9-inch pie crust mix—2 crusts) Take about 2/3rds of pastry dough; roll out into rectangle approximately 14 inches by 16 inches. Line the bottom and sides of an 8½ by 4½ by 2½-inch loaf pan; leave excess at the top to enclose the lid. Place three-fourths of chicken and ham mixture in pastry shell. Place 2 hard-cooked shelled eggs on top of meat mixture; cover with remaining pastry into approximately 11-inch by 7-inch rectangle. Place on top. Press to lower crust; shape edges as a pie. Brush with 1 egg yolk (beaten). Cut pastry scraps in shape of leaves. Decorate top; brush with beaten eggs. Make three holes in top of crust to release steam. Bake one hour; remove from oven and cool thoroughly. Carefully pour remaining jelled broth through holes in top of pie. Chill pie overnight in refrigerator. Serves 6.

Refried beans are nutritious

Refried beans, a staple in the Mexican-American diet so popular throughout California, provide a good source of protein and calcium.

The beans, usually pinto beans that are cooked, mashed and refried with lard, are even more nutritious when served with milk, meat, eggs or cheese, all high sources of animal protein.

Green and red chiles, which also enjoy widespread use in Mexican - American cuisine, are a good source of vitamin A, even when dried.

The ubiquitous tortilla, a necessity for tacos, enchiladas and burritos, gains in nutritive value when made with enriched wheat flour. Corn tortillas provide more nutrition when made with dried skim milk.

Tomatoes, carrots and pumpkin also are popular in Mexican-American cookery and are good vitamin sources. One raw carrot or one cup pumpkin provides a day's requirement of vitamin A. Tomatoes are a source of vitamin C and also contain smaller amounts of vitamin A.

Melons, one of the most popular fruits in Mexican-American diets, are a source of vitamin C. Cantaloupe, in particular, has a high vitamin C content.

A crusty homemade pizza pie

By Aileen Claire
NEA Food Editor

A homemade pizza makes a supper entree or snack that costs little and goes a long way. One made with a thin double crust enclosing the filling top and bottom gives a yummy flavor without that heavy dough feeling. As an added flavor switch make the crust with enriched corn meal. It is perfect with a cheesy beef pizza filling and spicy tomato sauce.

DOUBLE CRUST PIZZA PIE

1 pound ground beef
¼ cup chopped onion
¼ cup chopped green pepper
1 2½-ounce jar mushrooms, drained
1 cup grated Cheddar cheese
¼ teaspoon salt
1 egg, beaten
1½ cups sifted all-purpose flour
¾ teaspoon salt
½ cup shortening, soft
9 to 10 tablespoons cold water

Italian Sauce:

1 15-ounces can tomato sauce
1 teaspoon Italian herbs or oregano
½ teaspoon garlic salt

Heat oven to 375 degrees. For filling, pan-fry beef, onion and green pepper until beef is browned. Pour off excess fat. Add mushrooms, cheese, salt and egg. Mix well.

For pastry, sift together corn meal, flour and salt. Cut in shortening until mixture resembles coarse crumbs. Add water, 1 tablespoon at a time, mixing lightly only until dampened. Form into a ball. Divide dough in half with one half slightly larger than the other.

Roll out larger half to a 14-inch circle. Fit loosely into a 12-inch pizza pan or place on a cookie sheet. Spread with filling. Roll out remaining dough to a 13-inch circle and place over filling. Moisten edges of pastry and seal. Flute edges and prick top, dividing it into 6 equal wedges. (These lines will act as cutting guide when pizza is ready to serve.)

Bake in preheated 375-degree oven about 35 minutes or until lightly browned. Cut into wedges along cutting lines and serve with Italian sauce made by heating together sauce ingredients. Garnish with sprigs of parsley. Makes 6 servings.

Brown first, season later

When broiling meat, the National Live Stock and Meat Board reminds you to season the meat after it has been browned. If salt is applied before browning, it may draw the juices to the surface and retard browning.

paper towels, butter, eggs, detergent and sugar went down; other items were unchanged.

SALT LAKE CITY: The total for 14 available items went from $12.59 to $12.28, down 2.8 per cent. Chopped chuck, orange juice, butter and hot dogs went up; pork chops, eggs, peanut butter, fabric softener and sugar went down; paper towels were unavailable in the specified size at the checklist store and the other five items were unchanged.

SEATTLE: The 15-item total went from $13.38 to $13.68, up 2.2 per cent. Chopped chuck, orange juice, coffee, eggs and sugar went up; pork chops and butter declined; everything else stayed the same.

Cattle aren't robbing hungry

It is often said that grains that could be used for human consumption to combat hunger are the main source of feed for livestock. This is not true, says the National Live Stock and Meat Board. Actually, 78 percent of a beef animal's diet is composed of materials that humans would not eat. Cattle primarily eat grasses and forage and by-products such as stems and stalks.

Breakfast

Does a fortified breakfast cereal fulfill all the requirements for a complete breakfast? No. Although cereal provides many essential minerals and vitamins, citrus fruit or juice, milk and eggs or meat are important foods to include at this important meal of the day.

You'll want to serve meat often for breakfast for not only does meat staisfy appetites at the table, but it has staying power that helps eliminate cravings for high-calorie mid-morning snacks. While bacon and sausage are most often thought of as the "breakfast meats," ham slices, lamb patties, minute steaks, smoked pork chops and corned beef hash are a few of the other meats that will help start the day off right.

So what are food additives?

Oregano, nonfat dry milk, and citric acid may not seem to have anything in common. But all three — a spice, binder, and a chemical preservative — are food additives, says the U. S. Department of Agriculture (USDA).

According to USDA's Animal and Plant Health Inspection Service (APHIS), food additives approved for use in meat and poultry products are divided into three basic categories:

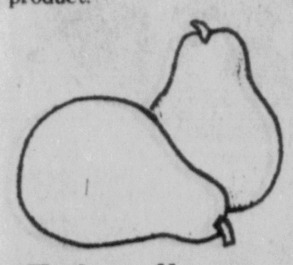
— Flavoring components, which are added to food for flavoring purposes only, such as sugar, garlic, pepper, oregano and other spices and herbs.

— Nutritional substances and substances added to produce a physical effect and which also have nutritional value as a food. For example, whey products, nonfat dry milk powder, flours, starches, and other similar extenders help bind together ingredients as well as add nutritional value to meat products like sausages, luncheon meats, and meat patties.

— Substances which are intended only to affect the product's physical characteristics, such as gums, cures, phosphates, and antioxidants. For example, citric acid, a chemical preservative, may be used in cured pork and beef cuts and sausage products to maintain color during storage. These substances usually have little or no nutritional value as a food.

The initial safety of food additives is determined by the Food and Drug Administration. However, if an additive is to be used in conjunction with meat or poultry products, it also must be approved by USDA.

USDA must determine that the additive will not cause a meat or poultry product to be adulterated or misbranded; establish appropriate limits or restrictions on the additive's use in meat or poultry products; and determine that the additive is effective and produces the intended results in the product.



Zabaglione can go well with fruit

By Cecily Brownstone
Associated Press
Food Editor

DEAR CECILY: Recently I was served a delicious dessert of poached apples with Zabaglione. I know how to cook the fruit, but can you tell me how to prepare the Zabaglione? — CURIOUS.

DEAR CURIOUS: I hope the following directions work out well for you. — C.B.

ZABAGLIONE

3 yolks, from large eggs
¼ cup sugar
¼ cup dry Marsala

Use a double boiler whose top has a rounded bottom. Pour enough boiling water into the bottom part of the double boiler so that the water will come up high but not touch double-boiler top. Place over heat, adjusting it so that water stays very hot but does not boil. In the doubleboiler top, off heat, with an electric beater at highest speed, beat yolks until they begin to thicken and are lemon color. Beat in sugar, 1 tablespoon at a time; continue to beat until very thick and a very pale yellow color. Place over the very hot water. Beating at highest speed, slowly pour in the Marsala — mixture will thin. Continue beating just until mixture increases in volume and holds peaks that tilt over slightly when the beater is slowly withdrawn; in a glass double boiler we found this took about 5 minutes. Serve at once because it separates and deflates on standing. Makes 4 servings as an accompaniment for poached apples or pears.

Franklin's ideas on diet can be applied now

Nutrition knowledge has come a long way since the birth of chemistry and biology, the sciences on which nutrition and dietetics are based.

Benjamin Franklin, born in 1706, was one of the early contributors to nutrition education though he lived in a time when chemistry still consisted of isolated facts.

In an article in the January 1976 issue of the Journal of the American Dietetic Assocation, Dr. Franklin C. Bing, a nutrition consultant in Evanston, Ill., writes that Franklin began to cook his own meals at the age of 16.

Apprenticed to an older brother, a printer, he offered to prepare his own meals if the brother, with whom he lived, would give him half the money it cost to feed him. The brother agreed and Franklin used the money to buy other books and food. A year later he sold the books for passage money and left Boston for Philadelphia.

During the voyage, young Franklin abandoned the vegetarianism he had taken up a year earlier after reading an essay on the subject. Formerly a great fish lover, he was taken with the smell of cooked fresh cod.

He reasoned that since larger fish eat smaller fish, there is no reason for people not to eat fish. Franklin, in his own words, "din'd upon cod very heartily."

Franklin was an early and steady advocate of moderation in eating. In a letter to a friend he wrote, "In general, mankind, since the improvement of cooking, eat about twice as much as nature requires."

Though overweight in his later years, Franklin continued to promote a reduced intake of food. In his Poor Richard's Almanac which he wrote and published each year from 1733 to 1758, he wrote, "To lengthen thy life, lessen thy meals."

In the Almanac of 1742 he recognized the fact that calorie requirements vary with each individual, writing, "They that study much, ought not eat so much as those that work hard, their digestion being not so good."

In this age of advanced nutrition science, the California Dietetic Association advises that it's easier than ever to follow Franklin's maxims.

Reports cast doubt on diet-heart disease concept

CHICAGO, Ill. — The Nutrition Research Director of the National Live Stock and Meat Board has called attention to four reports that cast doubt on the concept that dietary cholesterol is a causative factor in heart disease. William C. Sherman, Ph.D., of Chicago, said two reports show a decline in death from heart attacks. Another indicates that cholesterol-lowering drugs are ineffective in controlling heart disease mortality. And the fourth suggests that stress is a major factor in heart disease.

"In the six-year period showing a decline in heart disease deaths, meat consumption has been significantly higher than in previous years," said Sherman.

While heart disease remains the top killer malady in the U.S., there has been a decline of nearly 15 per cent in the coronary death rate of persons aged 55-64 years, according to figures released by the Department of Health, Education and Welfare last month. Moreover, figures from the National Center for Health Statistics, released last year, showed a reduction of almost 9 per cent in heart deaths among white men 35-64 years old . . . with a less pronounced decline for black men and both white and black women. The decline, in the five years of 1968-1972, followed a 35-year period of increased incidence of heart disease deaths.

"The connection between the U.S. public having fewer heart deaths while eating more meat is purely statistical," Sherman said. "On the other hand, so is the evidence that has been cited to relate increased incidence of heart disease with the meat-centered diet of the United States."

Regarding the cholesterol-lowering drug study, Sherman said: "If lowering blood cholesterol by drug medication doesn't prevent terminal heart attacks, what scientific justification remains for manipulating the diet in order to lower blood cholesterol levels?"

The findings on drug medication came out of the study of The Coronary Drug Project Research Group (1966-74) as reported in the July 21, 1975 Journal of the American Medical Association. It looked at the effectiveness of clofibrate and niacin in lowering blood cholesterol involving 8,341 randomly selected myocardial infarction patients. The researchers found the two drugs lowered both cholesterol and triglyceride levels but did not prolong lives of coronary heart disease patients.

Sherman acknowledged the possibility that results could have been different with persons who had not already suffered heart attacks.

However, he said, several prominent heart surgeons have noted that at least half of their heart attack patients have low serum cholesterol levels. They had heart attacks anyway! This was further authenticated by the fact

Soup: it's universal, individual

Soup has a mystique all its own. It is universal, found in every culture, yet it is individual in interpretation.

Over the ages, soup has been refined by the delicate culinary wisdom of the Far East, pepped-up by the spices and condiments of Asia, Africa and South America, and revitalized by the regional cooks of Europe. It can be the overture, the whole show or the third act of a menu, depending on the type of soup you select to prepare.

One of the ultimate accomplishments of the chef is considered to be good soup making. Yet, with all the mystique surrounding soup, it is possible for even the inexperienced cook to produce a mouth-watering, family pleasing combination like this Frankfurter Lentil Soup.

As with other soups, the variety of lentil soups is endless not only in ingredients but in the way they are blended with bases and seasonings. This recipe marries the flavors of bacon, skinless frankfurthers and lentils with fresh vegetables and a slightly tart accent of vinegar and catsup.

Served as the overture to a meal, it will make a delicious first course to a roast chicken dinner. If you prefer it as the whole show, crusty bread and butter and fresh fruit are good accompaniments.

FRANKFURTER LENTIL SOUP

- 4 slices bacon, cut-up
- 1 cup chopped onion
- 1 cup sliced carrots
- ½ cup chopped celery
- 1 package (16 ounces) lentils, washed and drained
- 8 cups water
- 2 tablespoons vinegar
- 1 tablespoon beef stock base or 2 beef bouiloon cubes
- 2 tsp. dry mustard
- ½ lb. skinless frankfurters, sliced
- ¼ cup catsup
- salt and pepper to taste

In Dutch oven, cook bacon until fairly crisp. Add onion, carrots and celery; cook until onion is transparent. Add lentils, water, vinegar, beef stock base and mustard. Bring to a boil. Cover, reduce heat, and simmer 1 hour. Add frankfurters, catsup and salt and pepper to taste. Simmer 15 minutes. Makes 8 servings.

Put surprises in meatballs

To add an element of surprise to a routine meatball dinner, the National Live Stock and Meat Board suggests shaping the ground beef mixture in balls around stuffed green olives, pitted ripe olives, pearl onions or cubes of cheese.

Cherry Cobbler for quick cooks

Wheat germ cherry cobbler is an up to date version of a favorite homemade desert. It has the tender biscuit crust and juicy fruit filling you would expect to find in a good old fashioned cobbler. And it's absolutely luscious served warm and fragrant from the oven with a topping of ice cream or whipped cream. What's the difference then? Convenience foods! Like ready to use wheat germ, biscuit mix and canned cherry pie filling. This easy new recipe goes together in mintues. And the fool-proof crust is truly outstanding. It's remarkable how much flavor and character wheat germ gives to the biscuit mix and butter dough. The rich nutty taste is really quite special. To make the eye catching top crust, arrange fluted ropes of the wheat germ dough diagonally over the cherry filling. Use the same crust with other pie fillings like apple, peach and blueberry.

Taking short cuts in cooking using convenience foods and simpler techniques makes good sense for today's busy people. The trick is to keep nutrition and flavor intact while doing all this streamlining. That is where reliable wheat germ comes in. This completely natural product comes to you already processed and ready to use — its valuable nutrients have been stabilized and its fresh flavor is insured by vacuum packing. Unopened jars of wheat germ can be stored indefinitely. It's a reliable source of food energy no matter how you use it — as a cooking ingredient, breakfast cereal or snack.

An analysis of the important nutrients found in wheat germ is printed on the label of every jar of both regular and wheat germ with sugar & honey.

WHEAT GERM CHERRY COBBLER

1½ cups biscuit mix
1 cup vacuum packed wheat germ (regular)
¼ cup sugar
½ teaspoon ground cardamom
¼ cup butter, softened
¼ cup shortening
1 (1-pound 5-ounce) can cherry pie filling
1 teaspoon water
Whipped cream or ice cream

Mix biscuit mix, wheat germ, sugar and cardamom. Cut in butter and shortening to make a dough. Pat 2/3 of dough into 9-inch square baking pan. Cover with cherry filling. Add water to remaining dough mixing lightly with fork. Shape into 5 narrow ropes. 1 (4-inch); 2 (7-inch); 2 (4-inch). Flute ropes by pinching with fingertips as for pie edge. Place long rope on top of filling diagonally from corner to corner. Arrange remaining ropes parallel on either side (not criss cross). Bake in 350-degree oven 30 to 35 minutes or until crust is golden brown. Cut into squares or spoon into dessert dishes. Top with whipped cream or ice cream. Makes 8 or 9 servings.

Reports cast some doubt...

that more than half of the 8,300 men in the national Coronary Drug Project — all of whom had suffered a heart attack — were found to have low blood cholesterol levels.

Further evidence disputing the diet-heart link comes from a recently reported nine-year University of California at Berkeley study of almost 4,000 Japanese-Americans living in California. Researchers believe their data showed that lifestyle has more significance as a heart disease risk factor than diet. Those Japanese-American men who maintained close ties to traditional Japanese culture had a much lower rate of heart disease than those who shifted toward a more stressful American lifestyle. Diet, occupation, smoking also were factors — but none showed as significant a correlation with heart disease as the degree of "Americanization" of lifestyle.

Based on a continuing review of the scientific literature by Dr. Sherman, the Meat Board has published a booklet titled "Meat and Your Heart." The publication, first in a series of meat-health layman-language leaflets, discusses cholesterol, saturated and polyunsaturated fats, dietary fiber, sugar and other dietary components. Findings resulting from research conducted with Meat Board grants as well as many other studies are included in the 12-page booklet's resume of heart disease research.

They switched careers...and they're glad they did

By Cecily Brownstone
Assoc. Press Food Editor

Maida Heatter loves great food. So does her husband, Ralph Daniels. As a result, midway in their lives they switched careers.

Maida is the daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. Gabriel Heatter. Her father was the famous radio news commentator. Of her mother Maida says, "She was a great cook and a true gourmet. Whether or not she had help, she did most of the cooking herself because she loved it. And she imparted that love to me."

Maida grew up in New York and became a fashion illustrator. It wasn't until she moved to Miami that she started giving cooking classes, these in her home. So successful were they, she had to enlarge them. A Miami department store built a replica of her own kitchen in their cookware department and then Maida gave her classes there, dispensing her recipes unstintingly to cooks who treasured them.

It was in Miami that Maida and Ralph Daniels met. Ralph had grown up in Texas and was an airplane pilot. When Ralph gave up commercial flying and opened a small Miami restaurant that gained a reputation for being "casual but elegant," Maida supplied the desserts, baking them in her home kitchen. They were such a hit she couldn't keep up with the demand. "I was always half a dozen cheesecakes and a dozen mousses behind," Maida said when I interviewed her via telephone from New York.

When Ralph decided to close the restaurant and take life a little more easily, Maida gave up her cooking classes and put her recipes in "Maida Heatter's Book of Great Desserts," published by Knopf and so good it's offered by three book clubs. No wonder. Even a novice cook can use the "Great Dessert" recipes successfully because the directions are unusually explicit. That's what I call being a truly generous writer. Maida puts it this way: "During the time I was working on 'Great Desserts,' I constantly thought of the questions my students had asked and incorporated the answers."

Now Maida and Ralph are busy working on new food projects. Maida is writing a book on cookie-making, testing and retesting recipes, deciding which to include. "I can't rely entirely on tasters," Maida explains. "They always say everything served at our house is wonderful. I like the recipes in my books to be ones I think are super."

Ralph is planning to open a new restaurant. When I was talking to Maida, he kept relaying remarks: "Tell Cecily that I'm not going to compromise. Everything we serve is going to be made from the best ingredients." Maida added, "We'll have a small menu, but every dish, simple or complicated, will be sensational." Maida says Ralph is so serious about this new undertaking that "he's willing to sell his 21-year-old plane in A1 condition, to help finance it." According to Ralph, "a fine old plane is like a fine old wine — it gets better and better."

Here is Rum Raisin Ice Cream from "Maida Heatter's Book of Great Desserts." I've tried a number of recipes for this dessert, highly favored by ice cream epicures. Maida's is the best I've come on.

MAIDA HEATTER'S RUM RAISIN ICE CREAM

2/3 cup 3 ounces dark raisins
½ cup dark rum 80 proof
1½ cups light cream
½ cup sugar
¼ teaspoon salt
4 egg yolks
2 teaspoons vanilla extract
2 cups heavy cream

Soak the raisins in the rum in a small, covered jar for several hours or overnight.

Scald the light cream in the top of a double boiler, uncovered, over hot water on moderate heat. When tiny bubbles begin to appear around the edge, or a slight skin forms on top, add the sugar and salt and stir to dissolve.

In a small bowl stir the egg yolks lightly with a fork just to mix. Very gradually, stirring with the fork, add about half of the hot cream to the yolks, and then add the yolks to the remaining cream in the top of the double boiler.

Replace over hot water on moderate heat and cook, stirring gently and scraping the pot with the rubber spatula, until custard thickens enough to coat a spoon (a scant 175 degrees on a candy thermometer).

Immediately transfer custard to a mixing bowl, or place top of double boiler in a bowl of ice and water to stop the cooking. Stir occasionally until custard is completely cool. Mix in the vanilla and rum-raisin mixture.

In a chilled bowl with chilled beaters, whip the heavy cream only until it holds a soft shape, not stiff. Gradually, in several small additions, fold the cooled custard into the whipped cream. Gently pour back and forth from one bowl to another to insure thorough blending.

Turn into freezer trays, spooning from the bottom to make sure that the raisins are equally distributed; cover airtight and freeze.

When the ice cream is slightly frozen — before it is actually firm — stir once gently, right in the tray, to keep the raisins evenly distributed.

Note: Rum Raisin Ice Cream is best made 6 to 12 hours before serving. If it stands longer than that there is a chance it may become granular and crystallized. You will need three average-size, or one average-and one extra-large size ice-cube trays.

Fennel seed adds a flair

Fennel seed, most often associated with Italian sausage, can be used to accent a variety of meat dishes, according to the National Live Stock and Meat Board. Its sweet, anise-like flavor will perk up ground meat patties, loaves and casseroles. Or crush a few pinches of fennel seed and add to the bread mixture used for stuffed pork chops.

LUCKY GIVES YOU MORE WAYS TO SAVE WITH LOWER PRICES OVERALL.

The supermarket that has a greater selection of merchandise with more lower prices obviously gives you more ways to save. That's Lucky. You'll find lower prices throughout the meat case, down each grocery aisle and all over the produce department.

In addition, Lucky Discount Centers offer you a wide selection of household needs, also priced lower item after item. That's been our policy for 13 years. Instead of reducing prices on a few advertised specials, Lucky gives you lower prices throughout the store.

The American quarter horse is one of the most useful horse breeds. These hardy little horses get their name because they were once bred for the sport of quarter racing, a quarter-mile race along a straight path.

The quarter horse was developed in America during the early 1700s by crossing thoroughbreds from England with the Spanish horse. The new breed could start quickly and run at high speed for short distances.

When the fast thoroughbred horse became popular for longer races, the quarter horse quickly found a home in the American West. Still called quarter horses in memory of their origin, these tough, surefooted horses make ideal cow ponies.

Since they can start, run, turn, and stop quickly, they are useful to cowboys for herding and roping cattle.

In addition to their usual colors — chestnut, bay, and brown — quarter horses can also be buckskin, Palomino, and smoky-colored, reflecting their Spanish ancestry.

A World Almanac globe or other fine prize will be awarded to the first youngster sending in a question used here. Send your question and your age to Johnny Wonder, (c/o this newspaper), Box 1335 (DA), Santa Cruz, CA 95061.

LIMITED WARRANTY

WARDS warrants its passenger car tires for specified miles when used on passenger cars, except taxis. If your tire does not give you this mileage because of: defects, normal road hazard failure, or premature tread wearout unless due to misalignment, WARDS will: 1. During first 10% of warranted mileage, replace the tire free; 2. During the remaining mileage, replace for a prorata charge based on mileage used.

For adjustments, return tire to Wards with Warranty Booklet.

Prorata charge based on price in effect at time of return at branch to which returned, including Federal Excise Tax.

200 YEARS AGO the great siege of Boston by British troops was well under way, also securing the highest ground on the Charlestown peninsula, Bunker Hill. Yet, they had never bothered to seize Dorchester Heights, another hill from which cannon could pound the British ships - if the patriots could find guns. Luckily, the Massachusetts Committee of Safety had learned earlier that British-held Fort Ticonderoga had a wealth of artillery. The committee appointed a former druggist and merchant to raise a company to attack the fort. Arriving at the scene of the American Revolution was that reckless egoist, Benedict Arnold, nonetheless an authentic military genius. Sent for the same mission was Ethan Allen, orotund leader of Vermont's "Green Mountain Boys." When these two prima donnas met near Ticonderoga (Allen with a few hundred soldiers, Arnold alone, as he was too impatient to await his troops), neither would yield command to the other, so they issued orders together. The Americans pounced on the sleeping Ticonderoga garrison and thus provided the artillery so vital to General Washington's plans. Ox-drawn sledges managed to transport the artillery over rivers and mountains, and by the night of March 4th, the patriots fortified Dorchester Heights. When Howe, the British commander-in-chief, looked up at the Heights the next morning, he was reported to have said that "the rebels" had done more work in one night than his whole army could have done in six months. Unfavorable weather gave Howe an excuse for not mounting a counterattack, and he decided that his only course was to pull out of Boston. On March 17, 1776 (still celebrated in Boston as Evacuation Day), Howe and his army sailed for Halifax, Nova Scotia.
